Questions for Dean Inge.
Sam's 7 Best Customers.
Nature in No Hurry.
Money Goes to Money.

By ARTHUR BRISBANE.

(The opinions expressed in this column are strictly those of Mr. Brisbane and not necessarily in consonance with the policies of The Review-Tribune).

In connection with religious hatreds and stupidities, did you notice the farewell remarks of the Very Rev. Inge, dean of St. Paul's, London, as he sailed for home?

He said to the reporters, and all the newspapers print his words, "I would advise them, meaning the Jews, to rebuild the Temple of Solomon here in New York, where they have the largest number of Jews—and plenty of Gentiles to fleece."

The reverend gentleman also remarked that he would be glad to get back to his cellar, meaning his supply of alcoholic fluids.

It isn't worth while to tell Dean Inge what the Jews have done to build up this country, or how much England owes to the intelligence of Cromwell, who allowed the Jews to come into England and build up English prosperity, while Spain and Portugal went down and stayed down, because superstitious brutality drove the Jews out.

But, you might ask the dean, well paid by the Christian church, these questions:

How do you make your living? Do you suppose there would be any such thing as a dean of St. Paul's Christian cathedral, if there hadn't been any Jews

Where do you think Christianity started?

What was the nationality of the Apostles and of the mother of Christ?

And, to these questions you might add this:

Providence, in sending the religion in which you believe, or rather in which you don't believe, to this earth, had its pick of the whole globe. Why did it pick out the land inhabited by Jews?

Perhaps Dean Inge thinks Providence knows less than the dean of St. Paul's.

Never quarrel with your customers, especially your best customers, and don't get mixed up in anything that might lead to a quarrel.

The United States chamber of commerce informs you that Uncle Sam has seven big outstanding customers. They bought from the United States in 1924, two thousand million dollars worth of products.

The wise merchant keeps on good terms with customers, treats them all fairly and alike, avoids anything that might cause friction.

Therefore, when Uncle Sam is invited to enter into a league of nations, he should reply:

"No, thank you, gentlemen. I stay on my side of the ocean, doing business politely and efficiently over my counter. I shall not mix up in anything that might cause unpleasant irritation. I am not going to help England decide against France, Japan against China, or Germany against Italy. You are my good customers. I shall continue to attend to my business, and I shall do it in the old American way."

You will observe that in spite of his much criticised and wholly sound Washington plan of minding his own business, old Uncle Sam is not losing trade.

For the month of April he sold to other countries more goods by $400,000,000 worth than in any April during the last five years. And the trade balance for April was in Uncle Sam's favor by $51,000,000. When you are doing well don't let critics worry you. Sometimes their criticism is not entirely unselfish.

Estimate Damage in Midnight Blast at $30,000.

RUINS BUILDING

Hint Plotters Planned to Kill Fred Adsett, Jeweler.

Damage estimated as high as $30,000 was caused by a dynamite explosion, which wrecked a two-story brick building, occupied by the Fred Adsett jewelry store, and jarred an adjoining two-story structure, occupied by the Charles A. Hart grocery store, Market street, Minerva, at 11:15 o'clock last night.

The blast is believed to have been part of a plot against the life of Adsett, owner of the jewelry store, who until three weeks ago had been sleeping at night in the building.

Chief of Police William Telford, with whom officials of Columbiana, Stark and Carroll counties are cooperating in an investigation of the plot, declined to discuss motives prompting the outrage.

Seek Two Men in Auto.

Adsett, whose wife is dead, spent last night at the home of a daughter.

The dynamite, set off under a rear corner of the Adsett store, destroyed the two-story building, which is owned by Hart, the grocer.

Adsett's stock of jewelry and other merchandise as well as a piano, victrola and other furniture, was badly damaged. The damage to the Hart grocery store, in the adjoining building, was slight.

Two men, who were traveling in an automobile, were seen near the Adsett store shortly before the explosion.

Sheriff Wright Notified.

Sheriff George Wright and Deputy Sheriff Lawrence Kindsvatter, of Lisbon, notified of the outrage shortly after it occurred, sped in an automobile to Minerva in an effort to overtake the plotters should they attempt to flee toward Columbiana county.

The sheriffs of Stark and Carroll counties also reached Minerva shortly after the explosion.

All officials were reticent today in discussing the various angles of the suspected plot.

100 Boys Attend Y. M. Camp Reunion; Plan Annual Outing

Approximately 100 boys attended the camp reunion, conducted under the auspices of the Boys' Work department of the Y. M. C. A., Friday evening. The affair was for all youths, who attended the Y camps last year and those who expect to enroll this year.

Camp songs were given by the boys. George Ganas won the prize for the best campfire story, while Howard Lindell's group carried off honors for the best campfire stunt. Selections were featured by the Boys' Marine band. Refreshments were served.

The Y. M. C. A. camp, known as "Camp Pine Ridge" located in Madison township along Beaver Creek and close to the Y. & O. railroad and the Lincoln highway, will open June 23. The camping season has been divided into six periods of 10 days each this year.

$20,325 Damages Asked for Injuries In Auto Accident

Orwin G. Smith, of this city, through his counsel, Cochran & Crawford, has filed a suit for $20,325 against the Pete Milliron Transfer & Storage company, of Second street, as the result of an automobile collision several weeks ago.

Smith, in his petition, declares that while traveling along the Lincoln highway near the Horn switch, his car was struck by a truck owned by the defendant and driven by one of his employes. His car was badly damaged and he received permanent injuries, the plaintiff alleges.

Lieut.-Col. Horner Believed Fatally Injured at Lima

LIMA, May 16.—Lieutenant Colonel Jack Horner, 30, former assistant adjutant general of Ohio, was perhaps fatally injured when he was crushed beneath the wheels of a five-ton concrete mixer late Friday afternoon.

Horner was pulling the heavy tractor mixer with another tractor when the steering wheel broke, throwing him beneath the wheels of the concrete machine. He was removed in an unconscious condition to a hospital. Attending physicians hold little hope for his recovery.

CLEVELAND MAN HELD AS SUSPECT IN MEDINA TRIPLE POISONING CASE

Ohioan Comments On Health, Then Falls Into Coma

NEW LEXINGTON, O., May 16.—Physicians are puzzled over the strange coma in which B. O. Fitzer, 40, garage owner and business man at Hemlock, has been enveloped for the past 24 hours.

"I never felt better in my life," he told his wife yesterday morning. Then he raised his hand over his head, yawned and fell unconscious, and has been in that state since.

Arrest of Walter Johns Follows Conviction of Mrs. Martha Wise, Who Was Given Life Sentence in Reformatory.

NEW MOVE MADE BY PROSECUTOR

Woman's Second Confession is Said to Have Implicated Prisoner in Arsenic Plot Against Family.

MEDINA, O., May 16—After a grilling that continued throughout the night Walter Johns, of Cleveland, was placed under arrest here today, on a charge of suspicion, in connection with the arsenic poisoning of three persons. Mrs. Martha Wise, 40, was sentenced to a life term in the Marysvile women's prison Wednesday in connection with this crime.

Seventeen Were Poisoned

The victims were Mrs. Wise's mother, Mrs. Sophia Hasel; her aunt, Mrs. Fred Gienke, Sr., and her uncle, Fred Gienke, S. Fourteen other members of their families, all near relatives of Mrs. Wise were also poisoned, but recovered, although two are crippled permanently.

Prior to her trial, Mrs. Wise made a confession, in which she said that the "devil" prompted her to purchase arsenic and place it in her relatives' drinking water.

Johns' arrest followed a further alleged confession of the woman, made yesterday, in which she is reported to have told prosecutor Joseph Seymour that it was Johns who prompted her to kill her mother, when the latter objected to the contemplated marriage of the Hardscrabble widow and the Cleveland man, because of differing religious beliefs.

Conspiracy Charge Expected

The alleged confession of the woman is reported to have implicated

U. S. HITS PLAN FOR LEAGUE TO CONTROL ARMS

Congressman Burton Warns Office Must be Independent.

AMERICAN STAND

Approve Proposal for Appointment of Committee.

GENEVA, May 16.—Congressman Burton, head of the American delegation to the arms conference, warned the conference today that if its central office for publication of statistics on arm commerce is not separated from control by the League of Nations, it will be impossible to depend upon American cooperation.

"It is very difficult," Burton told the conference, "for the United States to cooperate with a central office which has been created by the league and which will be comprised in the league's general organization."

"The United States," Burton continued, "would 'view with regret' if the conference draws up an agreement in such form as would prevent the United States accepting it without reservations.

"I believe it is possible to agree on a text which all can sign. For this purpose, I move that a committee be appointed before which the Americans will explain their viewpoint."

Sapnish Delegate Opposes.

Adopting Burton's proposal, the conference appointed a committee of eight, comprising the United States, Norway, France, Great Britain, Italy, Belgium, Germany and Spain.

The Spanish delegate, Palakios, opposing a separation of the arms body from the league, said:

"The United States cannot deny that the League of Nations exists. I am unable to understand why the United States can not have confidence in a league council elected by 55 nations.

"I promise as a compromise that the United States have a representative vote with the league council for the purpose of organizing a central office."

2 DIE, 3 HURT IN AUTO PLUNGE

POPLAR BLUFFS, Mo., May 16.—Leslie Solars, 19, star high school athlete, and his sweetheart, Bessie Warren, 18, of Williamsville, were killed, and three young students seriously hurt when the roadster in which they were returning from a farewell class party, plunged over a 50-foot cliff, near here, during the night, it was learned today when searching parties came upon the wreckage.

Young Solars and Miss Warren had planned to marry shortly, friends said.

LABOR CHIEF AND DONAHEY WILL ATTEND POTTER PICNIC

DUFFY INVITED

Outing Will be Held at Myers Lake on June 6.

Governor A. V. Donahey, Columbus; William Green, Coshocton, president of the American Federation of Labor and possibly T. J. Duffy, chairman of the Ohio Industrial commission and former president of the National Brotherhood of Operative Potters, will attend the first annual potters' reunion and picnic, which will be held at Myers Lake, Canton, on Saturday June 6.

The picnic committee announced today receipt of assurances from Mr. Green that he will be present at the outing. "I have cancelled some other arrangements, tentatively made, in order that I might have the pleasure and opportunity of attending the reunion and picnic of the National Brotherhood of Operative Potters," Mr. Green wrote.

Fresh assurances have also come from Columbus that Governor Donahey will be present, if no extraordinary emergencies arise. T. J. Duffy, who is the only living ex-president of the brotherhood, has also been invited to attend the affair and to have a part in the speakers' program.

Manufacturers Invited.

The day will be a holiday throughout the pottery industry. The visitors will come from East Liverpool, East Palestine, New Castle, Wellsville, Salineville, Salem, Alliance, Sebring, Beaver Falls, Steubenville, Wheeling, Canonsburg, Kittanning, Minerva, Scio, Coshocton and other pottery centers.

All manufacturing potters, their managers, foreman and other department heads have been asked to attend the picnic, the invitation having been extended through Charles F. Goodwin, secertary-treasurer of the United States Potters' association.

At least one special train will be run from the East Liverpool district, the train leaving here about 8 a. m., shortly before the 8:10 train from

Novelist Wells Sidesteps Fight Over Evolution

LONDON, May 16.—H. G. Wells, author and writer on the advance of civilization and the theory of evolution, will not take part in the controversy brought about in Tennessee by the alleged violation of the state anti-evolution law by Prof. J. T. Scopes, Wells said today.

Wells had been invited by Prof. John R. Neal to defend Scopes by debating the subject of evolution with William J. Bryan.

"I know nothing about this case," said Wells today. "I am not interested. I don't see why I should be asked to defend. I guess there is a mistake. They have probably asked a lawyer named Wells to defend, not the Novelist Wells."

PLOT TO KILL SERVIAN KING IS FRUSTRATED

Plan to Blow Up Belgrade Palace Discovered.

JAIL RADICALS

Police Raid Secret Meeting Place of Plotters.

LONDON, May 16.—A plot to murder King Alexander of Servia and his ministers has been discovered, according to a Central News despatch from Belgrade today.

The plotters planned to blow up the royal palace, both houses of parliament, and other government offices, according to the dispatch.

The plot was discovered when police raided a secret meeting place of the plotters.

Several communists who recently arrived in Belgrade have been arrested.

Police trailed the plotters to carefully hidden headquarters in a quiet suburb, the despatches said, and surprised them pouring over maps and discussing plans for city wide destruction.

NEW YORK, May 16.—The world's richest girl and her boyhood sweetheart sailed today for their European honeymoon in the cheapest cabin with bath afforded by the liner Paris.

Mr. and Mrs. David Merriwether Milton, nee Abby Rockefeller, after two days at the Hotel Pennsylvania, while most of their friends imagined they were at the Rockefeller estate at Tarrytown, went aboard quietly with the bride's parents an hour before the great ship slipped down the stream.

They occupied room No. 52, port side, forward, on "D" deck. It cost them $908. Cabins de luxe at several times that figure were available, but refused on the ground that they were "too expensive."

Only Mr. and Mrs. John D. Rockefeller, Jr., Abby's parents, and Ivy Lee, press agent for the Rockefeller family, were in the party to wish the heiress and the young attorney godspeed on their honeymoon.

W. C. T. U. President Opens Ohio Attack On "Vile" Literature

COLUMBUS, May 16.—A campaign against sales at news stands of "vile" literature, has been opened by Mrs. Florence D. Richard, president of the Ohio W. C. T. U., it was revealed here today. Aid has been asked of Attorney General Crabbe and he will act sometime next week, it was said at the attorney general's office. What line of attack will be followed was not indicated.

Dr. Frank Fowler's Father Seriously Ill in Scio Home

Dr. Frank G. Fowler, pastor of the First Methodist Episcopal church, was called to Scio, Friday evening, by the serious illness of his father, Benjamin B. Fowler. The elder Mr. Fowler is 90 years old.

SEAMEN INJURED IN SHIP BLAST

WASHINGTON, May 16.—A number of seamen were injured this morning in an explosion and fire aboard the Italian steamer Adige at Hampton Roads, according to a report to the navy department.

JURY ACQUITS LONGO; STRADA GIVEN LIBERTY BY PROSECUTOR

QUICK VERDICT

Alibi is Established in Wellsville Shooting Trial.

Fred Longo and Dominick Strada, both of Canton, indicted for first degree murder in the death of Mrs. Vincenzio Desmonia, who was shot down when she opened the door of her home in Broadway, Wellsville, on Feb. 22, last, in response to a knock, were freed today.

Strada Indictment Nolled.

Following an hour's deliberation, during which two ballots were taken, each recording a like result, the jury in common pleas court, Lisbon, yesterday afternoon, returned a verdict of not guilty in the trial of Longo.

Immediately upon announcement of the acquittal of Longo, Prosecutor Robert M. Brookes nolled the indictment against Strada, who was a prisoner in the county jail awaiting trial in connection with the Desmonia killing.

Attorneys James E. O'Grady of Wellsville and W. B. Moore of Lisbon, who defended Longo, set up an alibi. By witnesses they showed that Longo and Strada were eating supper in the dining room of the home of Michael Sabbato, father of Longo's fiancee, Margaret Sabbato, when they heard the shots which fatally wounded Mrs. Desmonia.

TWO POPPY DAY DRIVES OPEN

School Children and Others Sell Red Blossoms.

Two separate Poppy Day sales were being conducted in East Liverpool today—one by the American Legion and G. A. R. jointly and the other by the Veterans of Foreign Wars.

"Buy a Poppy" was the plea of scores of school children and women workers who were stationed on the street corners, at banks and at the doors of the principal business houses.

Mrs. George Obney is chairman of the Legion-G. A. R. campaign and is maintaining headquarters in the lobby of the Little building in the Diamond. Mrs. Laura Hughes is in charge of the committee directing the campaign sponsored by the Veterans of Foreign Wars.

While the poppy sale was intended to be a one-day affair, announcement was made today that the solicitation would likely be continued by both organizations throughout next week.

Funds collected by the Legion-G. A. R. workers will be used in defraying the cost of the Memorial Day observance and relief work. Collections by the Veterans of Foreign Wars are for the relief of disabled veterans.

Automobile Club Directors Plan Lisbon Meeting

A meeting of the board of directors of the Columbiana County Motor club will be held in the office of H. C. Armstrong, Lisbon, Monday evening. Further consideration will be given the safety campaign launched recently in the county schools. The board has also recommended that the brake and headlight test, required of East Liverpool motorists last winter, be enforced throughout the county by the sheriff and his deputies.

MARTIN FUNERAL HERE MONDAY

Funeral services for George H. Martin, 73 years old, former East Liverpool resident, who died Monday in Denver, Col.; will be held at 2 o'clock Monday afternoon in the Sturgis funeral home, West Fifth street. Rev. D. W. MacLeod, pastor of the First Presbyterian church, in charge. Burial will be made in Riverview cemetery.

The body, accompanied by his nephew, George C. Thompson, will arrive in Salem tomorrow morning at 10:30.

Mrs. Jack Dempsey Improving.

LONDON, May 16.—The condition of Mrs. Jack Dempsey was said by physicians today to be improved. She was reported to have burst a blood vessel due to sea sickness while crossing from New York.

CHAMBER OF COMMERCE INQUIRY EXPOSES CLEVER SCHEME IN WHICH BUSINESS WOMAN HERE IS SWINDLED OUT OF $35

Mrs. Jane V. Imbrie Victim of Fleecers, Investigation by National Vigilance Committee Reveals.

Through the efforts of the Chamber of Commerce, cooperating with the National Vigilance committee, a fraudulent scheme, in which a local business woman was swindled out of $35, has just been exposed, it developed today.

About two months ago a stranger, said to be one, H. C. Hassler, called upon Mrs. Jane V. Imbrie, who conducts a ladies' clothing and millinery establishment in Pennsylvania avenue, and obtained a contract for merchandise for which she paid $35 in advance. The stranger claimed to be representing the National Ladies' Tailoring company, of Chicago.

When Mrs. Imbrie failed to receive word regarding the goods, she became suspicious and asked the Chamber of Commerce to investigate the firm. H. B. Barth, secretary, wrote the Vigilance committee's office at Chicago, and recently was advised that no such a firm existed there, so far as the committee was able to learn.

Under date of May 13 the Vigilance committee sends out a circular letter warning against the operations of Hassler, who, it is believed, has been working elsewhere. Hassler is described to be of fair complexion, about 45 years of age and "makes a very presentable appearance."

Local business people are warned against dealing with strangers who fail to produce the proper credentials. The National Vigilance committee, through its connections with the Chamber of Commerce, stands ready to investigate any proposition where there is doubt as to its official status.

Other recent bulletins from the Vigilance committee deal with the National Advertisers' Syndicate and Manufacturers' Publicity service in a lottery scheme; Edward Provongo and Earl Flansburg, operators of an alleged fake subscription scheme; American Show Card school in so-called "work at home" scheme; William Gingsick and his alleged connections with Carson Shoe company, and the Mexico Land company, in colonization scheme.

Mrs. Martha Wise, 40, was sentenced to a life term in the Marysvile women's prison Wednesday in connection with this crime.

Seventeen Were Poisoned

The victims were Mrs. Wise's mother, Mrs. Sophia Hasel; her aunt, Mrs. Fred Gienke, Sr., and her uncle, Fred Gienke, S. Fourteen other members of their families, all near relatives of Mrs. Wise were also poisoned, but recovered, although two are crippled permanently.

Prior to her trial, Mrs. Wise made a confession, in which she said that the "devil" prompted her to purchase arsenic and place it in her relatives' drinking water.

Johns' arrest followed a further alleged confession of the woman, made yesterday, in which she is reported to have told prosecutor Joseph Seymour that it was Johns who prompted her to kill her mother, when the latter objected to the contemplated marriage of the Hardscrabble widow and the Cleveland man, because of differing religious beliefs.

Conspiracy Charge Expected

The alleged confession of the woman is reported to have implicated

Ohioan Comments On Health, Then Falls Into Coma

NEW LEXINGTON, O., May 16.—Physicians are puzzled over the strange coma in which B. O. Fitzer, 40, garage owner and business man at Hemlock, has been enveloped for the past 24 hours.

"I never felt better in my life," he told his wife yesterday morning. Then he raised his hand over his head, yawned and fell unconscious, and has been in that state since.

U. S. HITS PLAN FOR LEAGUE TO CONTROL ARMS

Congressman Burton Warns Office Must be Independent.

AMERICAN STAND

Approve Proposal for Appointment of Committee.

GENEVA, May 16.—Congressman Burton, head of the American delegation to the arms conference, warned the conference today that if its central office for publication of statistics on arm commerce is not separated from control by the League of Nations, it will be impossible to depend upon American cooperation.

"It is very difficult," Burton told the conference, "for the United States to cooperate with a central office which has been created by the league and which will be comprised in the league's general organization."

"The United States," Burton continued, "would 'view with regret' if the conference draws up an agreement in such form as would prevent the United States accepting it without reservations.

"I believe it is possible to agree on a text which all can sign. For this purpose, I move that a committee be appointed before which the Americans will explain their viewpoint."

Sapnish Delegate Opposes.

Adopting Burton's proposal, the conference appointed a committee of eight, comprising the United States, Norway, France, Great Britain, Italy, Belgium, Germany and Spain.

The Spanish delegate, Palakies, opposing a separation of the arms body from the league, said:

"The United States cannot deny that the League of Nations exists. I am unable to understand why the United States can not have confidence in a league council elected by 55 nations.

"I promise as a compromise that the United States have a representative vote with the league council for the purpose of organizing a central office."

2 DIE, 3 HURT IN AUTO PLUNGE

POPLAR BLUFFS, Mo., May 16.—Leslie Solars, 19, star high school athlete, and his sweetheart, Bessie Warren, 18, of Williamsville, were killed, and three young students seriously hurt when the roadster in which they were returning from a farewell class party, plunged over a 50-foot cliff, near here, during the night, it was learned today when searching parties came upon the wreckage.

Young Solars and Miss Warren had planned to marry shortly, friends said.

LABOR CHIEF AND DONAHEY WILL ATTEND POTTER PICNIC

DUFFY INVITED

Outing Will be Held at Myers Lake on June 6.

Governor A. V. Donahey, Columbus; William Green, Coshocton, president of the American Federation of Labor and possibly T. J. Duffy, chairman of the Ohio Industrial commission and former president of the National Brotherhood of Operative Potters, will attend the first annual potters' reunion and picnic, which will be held at Myers Lake, Canton, on Saturday June 6.

The picnic committee announced today receipt of assurances from Mr. Green that he will be present at the outing. "I have cancelled some other arrangements, tentatively made, in order that I might have the pleasure and opportunity of attending the reunion and picnic of the National Brotherhood of Operative Potters," Mr. Green wrote.

Fresh assurances have also come from Columbus that Governor Donahey will be present, if no extraordinary emergencies arise. T. J. Duffy, who is the only living ex-president of the brotherhood, has also been invited to attend the affair and to have a part in the speakers' program.

Manufacturers Invited.

The day will be a holiday throughout the pottery industry. The visitors will come from East Liverpool, East Palestine, New Castle, Wellsville, Salineville, Salem, Alliance, Sebring, Beaver Falls, Steubenville, Wheeling, Canonsburg, Kittanning, Minerva, Scio, Coshocton and other pottery centers.

All manufacturing potters, their managers, foreman and other department heads have been asked to attend the picnic, the invitation having been extended through Charles F. Goodwin, secertary-treasurer of the United States Potters' association.

At least one special train will be run from the East Liverpool district, the train leaving here about 8 a. m., shortly before the 8:10 train from

Barth Will Attend U. S. C. of C. Meeting In Nation's Capital

H. B. Barth, secretary of the Chamber of Commerce, will leave Sunday evening for Washington, where he will attend the 13th annual meeting of the United States Chamber of Commerce, which opens Tuesday. The convention will be held in the new National Chamber of Commerce building.

Neither W. E. Wells nor J. M. Manor, councillor and vice-councillor, respectively, of the organization, will attend the meeting. Barth was elected alternate. The convention will adjourn Friday.

STOLEN BONDS ARE IDENTIFIED

TOLEDO, May 16.—The $14,500 worth of registered Liberty bonds unearthed in an old tin can by Charles Lewis, section hand, while working on the right of way of the Toledo, Angola & Western railroad, near Sylvania, yesterday, were today identified as part of the loot of the robbery of the Old Fort Banking company at Old Port, O., August 19, 1920.

Bell Telephone Co. Officials Here.

C. D. Fulsom, Akron, division auditor, and C. P. Bradford, Akron, division commercial superintendent of the Bell Telephone company, visited at the East Liverpool office Thursday.

Novelist Wells Sidesteps Fight Over Evolution

LONDON, May 16.—H. G. Wells, author and writer on the advance of civilization and the theory of evolution, will not take part in the controversy brought about in Tennessee by the alleged violation of the state anti-evolution law by Prof. J. T. Scopes, Wells said today.

Wells had been invited by Prof. John R. Neal to defend Scopes by debating the subject of evolution with William J. Bryan.

"I know nothing about this case," said Wells today. "I am not interested. I don't see why I should be asked to defend. I guess there is a mistake. They have probably asked a lawyer named Wells to defend, not the Novelist Wells."

PLOT TO KILL SERVIAN KING IS FRUSTRATED

Plan to Blow Up Belgrade Palace Discovered.

JAIL RADICALS

Police Raid Secret Meeting Place of Plotters.

LONDON, May 16.—A plot to murder King Alexander of Servia and his ministers has been discovered, according to a Central News despatch from Belgrade today.

The plotters planned to blow up the royal palace, both houses of parliament, and other government offices, according to the dispatch.

The plot was discovered when police raided a secret meeting place of the plotters.

Several communists who recently arrived in Belgrade have been arrested.

Police trailed the plotters to carefully hidden headquarters in a quiet suburb, the despatches said, and surprised them pouring over maps and discussing plans for city wide destruction.

NEW YORK, May 16.—The world's richest girl and her boyhood sweetheart sailed today for their European honeymoon in the cheapest cabin with bath afforded by the liner Paris.

Mr. and Mrs. David Merriwether Milton, nee Abby Rockefeller, after two days at the Hotel Pennsylvania, while most of their friends imagined they were at the Rockefeller estate at Tarrytown, went aboard quietly with the bride's parents an hour before the great ship slipped down the stream.

They occupied room No. 52, port side, forward, on "D" deck. It cost them $908. Cabins de luxe at several times that figure were available, but refused on the ground that they were "too expensive."

Only Mr. and Mrs. John D. Rockefeller, Jr., Abby's parents, and Ivy Lee, press agent for the Rockefeller family, were in the party to wish the heiress and the young attorney godspeed on their honeymoon.

W. C. T. U. President Opens Ohio Attack On "Vile" Literature

COLUMBUS, May 16.—A campaign against sales at news stands of "vile" literature, has been opened by Mrs. Florence D. Richard, president of the Ohio W. C. T. U., it was revealed here today. Aid has been asked of Attorney General Crabbe and he will act sometime next week, it was said at the attorney general's office. What line of attack will be followed was not indicated.

Dr. Frank Fowler's Father Seriously Ill in Scio Home

Dr. Frank G. Fowler, pastor of the First Methodist Episcopal church, was called to Scio, Friday evening, by the serious illness of his father, Benjamin B. Fowler. The elder Mr. Fowler is 90 years old.

SEAMEN INJURED IN SHIP BLAST

WASHINGTON, May 16.—A number of seamen were injured this morning in an explosion and fire aboard the Italian steamer Adige at Hampton Roads, according to a report to the navy department.

JURY ACQUITS LONGO; STRADA GIVEN LIBERTY BY PROSECUTOR

QUICK VERDICT

Alibi is Established in Wellsville Shooting Trial.

Fred Longo and Dominick Strada, both of Canton, indicted for first degree murder in the death of Mrs. Vincenzio Desmonia, who was shot down when she opened the door of her home in Broadway, Wellsville, on Feb. 22, last, in response to a knock, were freed today.

Strada Indictment Nolled.

Following an hour's deliberation, during which two ballots were taken, each recording a like result, the jury in common pleas court, Lisbon, yesterday afternoon, returned a verdict of not guilty in the trial of Longo.

Immediately upon announcement of the acquittal of Longo, Prosecutor Robert M. Brookes nolled the indictment against Strada, who was a prisoner in the county jail awaiting trial in connection with the Desmonia killing.

Attorneys James E. O'Grady of Wellsville and W. B. Moore of Lisbon, who defended Longo, set up an alibi. By witnesses they showed that Longo and Strada were eating supper in the dining room of the home of Michael Sabbato, father of Longo's fiancee, Margaret Sabbato, when they heard the shots which fatally wounded Mrs. Desmonia.

TWO POPPY DAY DRIVES OPEN

School Children and Others Sell Red Blossoms.

Two separate Poppy Day sales were being conducted in East Liverpool today—one by the American Legion and G. A. R. jointly and the other by the Veterans of Foreign Wars.

"Buy a Poppy" was the plea of scores of school children and women workers who were stationed on the street corners, at banks and at the doors of the principal business houses.

Mrs. George Obney is chairman of the Legion-G. A. R. campaign and is maintaining headquarters in the lobby of the Little building in the Diamond. Mrs. Laura Hughes is in charge of the committee directing the campaign sponsored by the Veterans of Foreign Wars.

While the poppy sale was intended to be a one-day affair, announcement was made today that the solicitation would likely be continued by both organizations throughout next week.

Funds collected by the Legion-G. A. R. workers will be used in defraying the cost of the Memorial Day observance and relief work. Collections by the Veterans of Foreign Wars are for the relief of disabled veterans.

Automobile Club Directors Plan Lisbon Meeting

A meeting of the board of directors of the Columbiana County Motor club will be held in the office of H. C. Armstrong, Lisbon, Monday evening. Further consideration will be given the safety campaign launched recently in the county schools. The board has also recommended that the brake and headlight test, required of East Liverpool motorists last winter, be enforced throughout the county by the sheriff and his deputies.

MARTIN FUNERAL HERE MONDAY

Funeral services for George H. Martin, 73 years old, former East Liverpool resident, who died Monday in Denver, Col.; will be held at 2 o'clock Monday afternoon in the Sturgis funeral home, West Fifth street. Rev. D. W. MacLeod, pastor of the First Presbyterian church, in charge. Burial will be made in Riverview cemetery.

The body, accompanied by his nephew, George C. Thompson, will arrive in Salem tomorrow morning at 10:30.

Mrs. Jack Dempsey Improving.

LONDON, May 16.—The condition of Mrs. Jack Dempsey was said by physicians today to be improved. She was reported to have burst a blood vessel due to sea sickness while crossing from New York.

CHAMBER OF COMMERCE INQUIRY EXPOSES CLEVER SCHEME IN WHICH BUSINESS WOMAN HERE IS SWINDLED OUT OF $35

Mrs. Jane V. Imbrie Victim of Fleecers, Investigation by National Vigilance Committee Reveals.

Through the efforts of the Chamber of Commerce, cooperating with the National Vigilance committee, a fraudulent scheme, in which a local business woman was swindled out of $35, has just been exposed, it developed today.

About two months ago a stranger, said to be one, H. C. Hassler, called upon Mrs. Jane V. Imbrie, who conducts a ladies' clothing and millinery establishment in Pennsylvania avenue, and obtained a contract for merchandise for which she paid $35 in advance. The stranger claimed to be representing the National Ladies' Tailoring company, of Chicago.

When Mrs. Imbrie failed to receive word regarding the goods, she became suspicious and asked the Chamber of Commerce to investigate the firm. H. B. Barth, secretary, wrote the Vigilance committee's office at Chicago, and recently was advised that no such a firm existed there, so far as the committee was able to learn.

Under date of May 13 the Vigilance committee sends out a circular letter warning against the operations of Hassler, who, it is believed, has been working elsewhere. Hassler is described to be of fair complexion, about 45 years of age and "makes a very presentable appearance."

Local business people are warned against dealing with strangers who fail to produce the proper credentials. The National Vigilance committee, through its connections with the Chamber of Commerce, stands ready to investigate any proposition where there is doubt as to its official status.

Other recent bulletins from the Vigilance committee deal with the National Advertisers' Syndicate and Manufacturers' Publicity service in a lottery scheme; Edward Provongo and Earl Flansburg, operators of an alleged fake subscription scheme; American Show Card school in so-called "work at home" scheme; William Gingsick and his alleged connections with Carson Shoe company, and the Mexico Land company, in colonization scheme.

HOUSES SWEPT AWAY AS YUKON RIVER FLOOD HITS DAWSON

No Loss of Life as City Emerges From Danger.

CALL FOR FUNDS

Fear For Safety of Farmers Living on Islands.

DAWSON, Yukon, May 16.—Dawson today emerged from the worst flood in its history.

Several houses were carried away, heavy property damage was done by the flood waters, but no loss of life was reported.

City police today in a launch were making an effort to reach the islands in the Yukon river, fearing for the safety of farmers living on the islands.

For a time the flood threatened to wipe out the city. But the river dropped four feet during the night. The business district escaped damage.

Sudden Thaw Blamed.

The flood was caused by the cold spring weather followed by a sudden thaw. All along the Yukon valley, torrents of water poured from the tributaries.

Several houses were carried away bodily on the outskirts of Dawson.

The government radio station was out of commission for 12 hours when the flood was at its height.

Prominent citizens today wired the authorities at Ottawa asking that an appropriation of $50,000 be sent to repair the damage.

GENERAL MILES DIES SUDDENLY

Veteran Military Hero Drops Dead at Circus.

WASHINGTON, May 16.—While the whole army mourned, arrangements were being completed today for the funeral of General Nelson A. Miles, one of America's outstanding military heroes, who died suddenly yesterday while attending a circus.

Mrs. Cecelia Raber, the general's daughter, was to arrive this morning from New York, while his son, Major Sherman Miles, is enroute to the United States from Constantinople on the Leviathan.

Having served in nearly every rank which the army knows—from private soldier to commander of all the nation's forces—General Miles will be buried, probably in Arlington National cemetery, with full military honors.

TODAY

our sun 300,000,000 more years to cool off.

Nature is in no hurry.

Money goes to money and if you understand business you can easily get capital to develop your enterprise. The other day, for instance, Edward L. Doheny sold his Mexican oil properties to a branch of the Standard Oil. He now organizes a new company, of a million shares, "no par value," to develop properties in the west.

Does the new company have to start out and work up from the bottom?

Hardly.

Mr. Doheny told his friends that he would start operations with a cash capital of $85,000,000 and all of this is "new money," money from the east brought in to develop the west.

"There's gold in them mountains," the old prospector used to say. There is, if you know where to find it. But, there a good deal more gold in those oil wells, if you know how to locate them. And, apparently Mr. Doheny does know.

Governor McLean of North Carolina, means to make the radio 100 per cent useful. His plan, in connection with a high power radio station, operated by the state, is to send out to all school houses such news as rural communities, their farmers, business men, etc., especially want. Information concerning the state will be emphasized.

The state's engineers and the engineering faculty of the North Carolina State college are working on the problem. This should interest the governors of other states. To use new inventions promptly, using public power and money in the work, is to hurry on the work of civilization. Take away the work of the last 100 years, and where would the world be?

REPORTS FROM STOCK MARKET

NEW YORK, May 16.—High priced industrials stocks, specialties and public utility stocks continued their forward price move in the short session of the market today. The professionals dominated the speculative market, and continued to push up prices of their favorite stocks. Bearish traders were brushed aside in the forward sweep of prices in utility and specialty stocks with strong pool backing.

Universal Pipe common and preferred sold about three points higher. American Waterworks jumped three points to a new high at 58¾, while the movements in Certainteed Products, Montana Power, Glidden, Air Reduction, etc., carried prices to the highest level on the recovery.

United States Steel pushed vigorously upward to 117¼ on heavy trading. American Can reached a new high record at 191½, as also did Mack Trucks, which sold at 166½, completing a gain of 11 points since Monday.

Railroad stocks were featureless, with the exception of Ann Arbor preferred, which was in demand on rumors that some of the larger railroad systems were buying for control of this line. Frisco common and Rock Island sold higher. Oil stocks again retired to the inactive list. Independent Steel shares followed the advance in United States Steel with Bethlehem and Gulf States in the most active position. International Paper was also strong and active.

Graduates to Present Picture of Monroe Patterson to School

Memory of Athletic Field Donor Will be Honored at Recognition Exercises in High School on Thursday.

Memory of the late Monroe Patterson, donor of an athletic field to East Liverpool public school children, will be honored in connection with the recognition exercises to be held in the high school auditorium at 1:30 o'clock next Thursday afternoon.

A life size portrait of Mr. Patterson, beautifully framed, will be presented to the high school by the graduating class. The presentation speech will probably be made by Kenneth Pyles, president of the class. The picture will be hung in a conspicuous place, probably in the corridor of the main floor.

Students, who earned qualifying grades in high school work, members of the football, basketball and track teams, band, orchestra and other school attractions will be honored at the recognition exercises. The program is being arranged by Miss Florence Updegraff, high school principal.

The exercises will be open to the public, particularly parents of high school students.

DEATH ROLL

Harold Thompson.

Harold Thompson, 35 years old, died last evening in his home, 213 Blakely street, following an illness of complications.

He leaves his wife, three children, Phyllis, Ralph and Paul, his mother, Mrs. Arthur Forest, and one brother, Edwin Forest. He was a member of the Methodist church and Junior Order United American Mechanics.

Funeral services will be held in the home at 1 o'clock Monday afternoon, Rev. Frank G. Fowler, pastor of the First Methodist Episcopal church, in charge. The body will be taken to New Cumberland for burial.

Friends can view the body tomorrow evening between 7 and 10 o'clock.

ARREST 10 MEN FOR PICKETING

GRANT TOWN, W. Va., May 16.—Ten striking miners were arrested by sheriffs deputies here today for picketing an open shop mine.

Ulysses A. Knapp, attorney for the United Mine Workers, accused of directing the picketing, was one of those taken into custody. A Baltimore newspaperman, whose identity was not revealed, also was arrested.

All were released later in $500 bond.

OHIOAN FACES DEATH CHAIR

Cleveland Man is Convicted of Killing Wife.

CLEVELAND, May 16. — Frank Liska must die in the electric chair August 24. A verdict of guilty of first degree murder without a mercy recommendation was returned last night, after the jury had deliberated for 53 hours. One juror, a man, had held out against the death chair throughout the jury's many hours of balloting.

Liska, who has been in the United States for 16 years but speaks no English, was overcome when one of his lawyers, John J. Babka, interpreted the verdict. He sagged to his knees and Judge Carl V. Weygandt gave him permission to sit during the formalities which marked the end of the trial.

Mrs. Liska's charred body was found in a blazing chicken coop last winter. She had been strangled. Later police wrung a confession from her husband that he had aided her to die.

During the trial defense attorneys attempted to prove that the confession was obtained by coercion, and should not be admitted in evidence. They were overruled.

A motion for a new trial will be made at once.

Bellaire Slayer Electrocuted.

COLUMBUS, May 16.—The body of Fred Ward, 30, of Bellaire, who was put to death in the electric chair at Ohio state penitentiary early today for slaying, Sept. 2 of Janetta Panella, 16, in Belmont county, was to be shipped today to Bellaire for burial. Ward's two sisters, Mrs. Freda Jarrett, Warwood, W. Va., and Mrs. Howard Barkus of Steubenville, who failed to obtain a last-minute reprieve, will accompany the body.

Johns in the entire plot. She was said to have told Seymour that he even specified the amount of poison to be used, telling her to put half a teaspoonful in the water pail at the home of her aged mother.

Seymour announced today that he expected to bring a charge of conspiracy to murder against Johns and Mrs. Wise, although she has already been sentenced to life imprisonment. This offense carries with it death in the electric chair as a penalty.

During the continued grilling of Johns last night, Seymour said that Mrs. Wise's home. Johns was arrested in his Cleveland home on a he admitted he had frequently visited warrant sworn out by a justice of the peace here. His four children were present. He was reported to have been married three times. One wife died in an asylum. The others also are dead.

Seymour stated that he would ask that Johns be held without bail, pending presentation of the new evidence to the grand jury.

No Loss of Life as City Emerges From Danger.

CALL FOR FUNDS

Fear For Safety of Farmers Living on Islands.

DAWSON, Yukon, May 16.—Dawson today emerged from the worst flood in its history.

Several houses were carried away, heavy property damage was done by the flood waters, but no loss of life was reported.

City police today in a launch were making an effort to reach the islands in the Yukon river, fearing for the safety of farmers living on the islands.

For a time the flood threatened to wipe out the city. But the river dropped four feet during the night. The business district escaped damage.

Sudden Thaw Blamed.

The flood was caused by the cold spring weather followed by a sudden thaw. All along the Yukon valley, torrents of water poured from the tributaries.

Several houses were carried away bodily on the outskirts of Dawson.

The government radio station was out of commission for 12 hours when the flood was at its height.

Prominent citizens today wired the authorities at Ottawa asking that an appropriation of $50,000 be sent to repair the damage.

GENERAL MILES DIES SUDDENLY

Veteran Military Hero Drops Dead at Circus.

WASHINGTON, May 16.—While the whole army mourned, arrangements were being completed today for the funeral of General Nelson A. Miles, one of America's outstanding military heroes, who died suddenly yesterday while attending a circus.

Mrs. Cecelia Raber, the general's daughter, was to arrive this morning from New York, while his son, Major Sherman Miles, is enroute to the United States from Constantinople on the Leviathan.

Having served in nearly every rank which the army knows—from private soldier to commander of all the nation's forces—General Miles will be buried, probably in Arlington National cemetery, with full military honors.

our sun 300,000,000 more years to cool off.

Nature is in no hurry.

Money goes to money and if you understand business you can easily get capital to develop your enterprise. The other day, for instance, Edward L. Doheny sold his Mexican oil properties to a branch of the Standard Oil. He now organizes a new company, of a million shares, "no par value," to develop properties in the west.

Does the new company have to start out and work up from the bottom?

Hardly.

Mr. Doheny told his friends that he would start operations with a cash capital of $85,000,000 and all of this is "new money," money from the east brought in to develop the west.

"There's gold in them mountains," the old prospector used to say. There is, if you know where to find it. But, there a good deal more gold in those oil wells, if you know how to locate them. And, apparently Mr. Doheny does know.

Governor McLean of North Carolina, means to make the radio 100 per cent useful. His plan, in connection with a high power radio station, operated by the state, is to send out to all school houses such news as rural communities, their farmers, business men, etc., especially want. Information concerning the state will be emphasized.

The state's engineers and the engineering faculty of the North Carolina State college are working on the problem. This should interest the governors of other states. To use new inventions promptly, using public power and money in the work, is to hurry on the work of civilization. Take away the work of the last 100 years, and where would the world be?

Graduates to Present Picture of Monroe Patterson to School

Memory of Athletic Field Donor Will be Honored at Recognition Exercises in High School on Thursday.

Memory of the late Monroe Patterson, donor of an athletic field to East Liverpool public school children, will be honored in connection with the recognition exercises to be held in the high school auditorium at 1:30 o'clock next Thursday afternoon.

A life size portrait of Mr. Patterson, beautifully framed, will be presented to the high school by the graduating class. The presentation speech will probably be made by Kenneth Pyles, president of the class. The picture will be hung in a conspicuous place, probably in the corridor of the main floor.

Students, who earned qualifying grades in high school work, members of the football, basketball and track teams, band, orchestra and other school attractions will be honored at the recognition exercises. The program is being arranged by Miss Florence Updegraff, high school principal.

The exercises will be open to the public, particularly parents of high school students.

DEATH ROLL

Harold Thompson.

Harold Thompson, 35 years old, died last evening in his home, 213 Blakely street, following an illness of complications.

He leaves his wife, three children, Phyllis, Ralph and Paul, his mother, Mrs. Arthur Forest, and one brother, Edwin Forest. He was a member of the Methodist church and Junior Order United American Mechanics.

Funeral services will be held in the home at 1 o'clock Monday afternoon, Rev. Frank G. Fowler, pastor of the First Methodist Episcopal church, in charge. The body will be taken to New Cumberland for burial.

Friends can view the body tomorrow evening between 7 and 10 o'clock.

ARREST 10 MEN FOR PICKETING

GRANT TOWN, W. Va., May 16.—Ten striking miners were arrested by sheriffs deputies here today for picketing an open shop mine.

Ulysses A. Knapp, attorney for the United Mine Workers, accused of directing the picketing, was one of those taken into custody. A Baltimore newspaperman, whose identity was not revealed, also was arrested.

All were released later in $500 bond.

OHIOAN FACES DEATH CHAIR

Cleveland Man is Convicted of Killing Wife.

CLEVELAND, May 16. — Frank Liska must die in the electric chair August 24. A verdict of guilty of first degree murder without a mercy recommendation was returned last night, after the jury had deliberated for 53 hours. One juror, a man, had held out against the death chair throughout the jury's many hours of balloting.

Liska, who has been in the United States for 16 years but speaks no English, was overcome when one of his lawyers, John J. Babka, interpreted the verdict. He sagged to his knees and Judge Carl V. Weygandt gave him permission to sit during the formalities which marked the end of the trial.

Mrs. Liska's charred body was found in a blazing chicken coop last winter. She had been strangled. Later police wrung a confession from her husband that he had aided her to die.

During the trial defense attorneys attempted to prove that the confession was obtained by coercion, and should not be admitted in evidence. They were overruled.

A motion for a new trial will be made at once.

Bellaire Slayer Electrocuted.

COLUMBUS, May 16.—The body of Fred Ward, 30, of Bellaire, who was put to death in the electric chair at Ohio state penitentiary early today for slaying, Sept. 2 of Janetta Panella, 16, in Belmont county, was to be shipped today to Bellaire for burial. Ward's two sisters, Mrs. Freda Jarrett, Warwood, W. Va., and Mrs. Howard Barkus of Steubenville, who failed to obtain a last-minute reprieve, will accompany the body.

REPORTS FROM STOCK MARKET

NEW YORK, May 16.—High priced industrials stocks, specialties and public utility stocks continued their forward price move in the short session of the market today. The professionals dominated the speculative market, and continued to push up prices of their favorite stocks. Bearish traders were brushed aside in the forward sweep of prices in utility and specialty stocks with strong pool backing.

Universal Pipe common and preferred sold about three points higher. American Waterworks jumped three points to a new high at 58¾, while the movements in Certainteed Products, Montana Power, Glidden, Air Reduction, etc., carried prices to the highest level on the recovery.

United States Steel pushed vigorously upward to 117¼ on heavy trading. American Can reached a new high record at 191½, as also did Mack Trucks, which sold at 166¾, completing a gain of 11 points since Monday.

Railroad stocks were featureless, with the exception of Ann Arbor preferred, which was in demand on rumors that some of the larger railroad systems were buying for control of this line. Frisco common and Rock Island sold higher. Oil stocks again retired to the inactive list. Independent Steel shares followed the advance in United States Steel with Bethlehem and Gulf States in the most active position. International Paper was also strong and active.

NEED $38,000 TO FINISH DAM

City Council Will be Asked to Approve Bond Issue.

Probably at its next regular meeting on Tuesday evening, May 19, city council will be asked to pass an ordinance to sell $38,000 worth of bonds to pay for the completion of the city's new water system.

It is anticipated by city officials that the bond issue will be approved by the solons, inasmuch as the funds will be used only for finishing the regular contract work, and are not sought for the purpose of any additions to the system.

The finishing touches to the municipal system cannot be applied, it is understood, unless additional funds are forthcoming.

Advance warning that the city would have to provide funds over and above the original bond issue, with which to complete the system, was given councilmen months ago by W. J. Sherman, of the Sherman Engineering company, Toledo, when he was called before the municipal legislative body to describe the work of the system.

At that time, Mr. Sherman estimated that at least $25,000 would be required to complete the construction of the dam. He pointed out at the time where the funds that had already been provided, were going.

YOUNG PEOPLE HOLD MEET HERE

With delegates in attendance from practically every church in the presbytery, the Young People's Christian Union of the First United Presbyterian church, Steubenville presbytery, held its annual spring meeting yesterday afternoon and evening in the local church.

Dinner was served by the Wellsville society at 6 o'clock, followed by a program which included as the chief address of the evening, a talk by Benjamin H. McGrew, of Pittsburgh, national treasurer of the young people's organization. His subject was, "Our Y. P. C. U.—To Know, To Do and To Love Its Work."

Present officers were re-named for the ensuing term at the business session and election following the program. Stewart Parker, of this city, was re-elected prebyterial chairman.

Parker was also named as a delegate to the national convention which will be held during the latter part of July at Silver Bay, New York state.

The next meeting of the presbytery organization was scheduled for the First United Presbyterian church in East Liverpool during the second week of September.

AWAIT SALE OF STREET BONDS

Actual construction work on the Lisbon street-Wells avenue paving project will be started immediately after the sale of $76,000 worth of bonds, which will provide funds for financing the job, it was announced today.

G. R. Patterson, of this city, who holds the contract for the paving work on both streets, has completed his other contracts and is awaiting the word to go.

The bonds will be sold on May 19, and work will be started as soon as possible after that date.

Contractor Patterson will be unable to move his equipment to the site until the money for the work is in the bank.

According to city officials, several bids have already been received for the bonds, days in advance of the time required.

Workmen are now engaged in installing, repairing nd inspecting service pipe lines in Wells avenue, preparatory to the paving work.

HIGH STUDENTS GIVE PROGRAM

Several hundred persons, including many parents and other citizens, attended the program and demonstrations given last evening in the high school by students, as the chief feature of the annual visitation week observance.

The first part of the program was enacted in the auditorium. Several selections were given by the high school orchestra, a cornet solo by Tony Riville and a piano solo by Ina Daw.

The boys' and girls' physical education classes gave drills in the school gymnasium following the auditorium program. In addition there were interesting displays of domestic science and wood-working exhibits.

Gloria Swanson and Warwick Ward in a scene from the Paramount Picture 'Madame Sans Gene'

Ceramic theatre, three days starting Monday.

Gloria Swanson's Greatest Picture Comes to Ceramic

In "Madame Sans Gene" Gloria Swanson has probably the most difficult role ever attempted by her during her screen career, but according to all reports she has created for the screen a figure as great as the French actress Rejane did for the stage in the play by Victorien Sardou and Emile Moreau.

The Paramount picture, which was filmed entirely in Paris, comes to the Ceramic theatre on Monday next for a run of three days. The opening of the production finds Gloria as Catherine Hubscher, a French laundress who, through the fortunes of war—the French Revolution—finds herself the possessor of the title of Duchess and a place in the court of Napoleon, for whom she used to steal silk shirts from her wealthy customers, when the Emperor of France was a mere nobody.

Charles de Roche, the only member of the supporting cast with any motion picture experience in this country, has the leading man's role, that of a young sergeant who marries Sans Gene.

"Madame Sans Gene" was written for the screen by Forrest Halsey, who adapted all of Miss Swanson's recent successes.

Besides de Roche, Warrick Ward, popular English leading man; Emile Drain, probably the foremost portrayer of the character of Napoleon in the world today, appear in the cast.

British Fruit Hawkers Discover New Method Of Booming Business

BIRMINGHAM, Eng., May—Painting the lily may be time wasted; but you can't make fruit dealers believe that dyeing oranges doesn't boom trade.

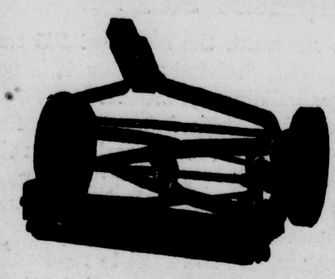

J. F. Liverseege, public analyst, is authority for the statement that fruit hawkers here are developing unripe oranges with a solution of chrysodine in order that they may appear ripe. The dye does not affect the orange nor endanger the consumer.

Leadership - and why

Graham Brothers impressive advance to first position in the 1½ ton truck field, and second in the 1 ton and the 1½ ton fields combined—during the first quarter of 1925—is explained by four vital reasons:

1. Distinct price advantage.
2. Pronounced quality advantage.
3. Dodge Brothers engine.
4. Substantial character of Dodge Brothers dealer organization.

Ordinary logic demands that these facts receive your immediate consideration if you have any need whatever for a truck.

YOUNG PEOPLE HOLD MEET HERE

With delegates in attendance from practically every church in the presbytery, the Young People's Christian Union of the First United Presbyterian church, Steubenville presbytery, held its annual spring meeting yesterday afternoon and evening in the local church.

Dinner was served by the Wellsville society at 6 o'clock, followed by a program which included as the chief address of the evening, a talk by Benjamin H. McGrew, of Pittsburgh, national treasurer of the young people's organization. His subject was, "Our Y. P. C. U.—To Know, To Do and To Love Its Work."

Present officers were re-named for the ensuing term at the business session and election following the program. Stewart Parker, of this city, was re-elected prebyterial chairman.

Parker was also named as a delegate to the national convention which will be held during the latter part of July at Silver Bay, New York state.

The next meeting of the presbytery organization was scheduled for the First United Presbyterian church in East Liverpool during the second week of September.

AWAIT SALE OF STREET BONDS

Actual construction work on the Lisbon street-Wells avenue paving project will be started immediately after the sale of $76,000 worth of bonds, which will provide funds for financing the job, it was announced today.

G. R. Patterson, of this city, who holds the contract for the paving work on both streets, has completed his other contracts and is awaiting the word to go.

The bonds will be sold on May 19, and work will be started as soon as possible after that date.

Contractor Patterson will be unable to move his equipment to the site until the money for the work is in the bank.

According to city officials, several bids have already been received for the bonds, days in advance of the time required.

HIGH STUDENTS GIVE PROGRAM

Several hundred persons, including many parents and other citizens, attended the program and demonstrations given last evening in the high school by students, as the chief feature of the annual visitation week observance.

The first part of the program was enacted in the auditorium. Several selections were given by the high school orchestra, a cornet solo by Tony Riville and a piano solo by Ina Daw.

The boys' and girls' physical education classes gave drills in the school gymnasium following the auditorium program. In addition there were interesting displays of domestic science and wood-working exhibits.

L. T. L. Session Today.

Bride-elect Honored.

Miss Ellen Burris, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. L. F. Burris, of Hillcrest, whose engagement to Raymond Davis, of Athens, will terminate in a June wedding, was honored at a shower given recently by Mrs. E. P. Stonebreaker, of Leetonia, at the home of Mrs. Stonebraker's parents, Mr. and Mrs. H. B. Andrews, Main street. Sixteen friends of the bride-elect attended the shower.

Flowers Funeral Sunday.

Funeral services for Mrs. Phoebe Flowers, 72 years old, of Sixth and Commerce streets, who died Thursday evening at her home following an illness of complications, will be held on Sunday afternoon in the First Christian church. The services will be conducted by Rev. Thomas B. Shearer, pastor. The burial will be made in Spring Hill cemetery.

All-Americans Lose Opener.

Playing their first game of the season, the All-Americans baseball team, of this city, lost to the Salineville Juniors, 6 to 4, Thursday afternoon at Salineville.

The All-Americans are managed by E. T. Skinner and will take on rival clubs in the 16-year-old class.

Attend Federation Meet.

Mrs. A. B. Murdock, Mrs. D. P. Morrison and Mrs. E. G. Whitacre have returned from Canton where they attended sessions of the state convention of the General Federation of Women's Clubs.

The eat-more-fruit campaign under way in England discloses that apple consumption amounts to one apple per person every four days.

Gloria Swanson and Warwick Ward in a scene from the Paramount Picture 'Madame Sans Gene'

Ceramic theatre, three days starting Monday.

Gloria Swanson's Greatest Picture Comes to Ceramic

In "Madame Sans Gene" Gloria Swanson has probably the most difficult role ever attempted by her during her screen career, but according to all reports she has created for the screen a figure as great as the French actress Rejane did for the stage in the play by Victorien Sardou and Emile Moreau.

The Paramount picture, which was filmed entirely in Paris, comes to the Ceramic theatre on Monday next for a run of three days. The opening of the production finds Gloria as Catherine Hubscher, a French laundress who, through the fortunes of war—the French Revolution—finds herself the possessor of the title of Duchess and a place in the court of Napoleon, for whom she used to steal silk shirts from her wealthy customers, when the Emperor of France was a mere nobody.

Charles de Roche, the only member of the supporting cast with any motion picture experience in this country, has the leading man's role, that of a young sergeant who marries Sans Gene.

"Madame Sans Gene" was written for the screen by Forrest Halsey, who adapted all of Miss Swanson's recent successes.

Besides de Roche, Warrick Ward, popular English leading man; Emile Drain, probably the foremost portrayer of the character of Napoleon in the world today, appear in the cast.

British Fruit Hawkers Discover New Method Of Booming Business

BIRMINGHAM, Eng., May—Painting the lily may be time wasted; but you can't make fruit dealers believe that dyeing oranges doesn't boom trade.

J. F. Liverseege, public analyst, is authority for the statement that fruit hawkers here are developing unripe oranges with a solution of chrysodine in order that they may appear ripe. The dye does not affect the orange nor endanger the consumer.

Leadership — and why

Graham Brothers impressive advance to first position in the 1½ ton truck field, and second in the 1 ton and the 1½ ton fields combined—during the first quarter of 1925—is explained by four vital reasons:

1. Distinct price advantage.
2. Pronounced quality advantage.
3. Dodge Brothers engine.
4. Substantial character of Dodge Brothers dealer organization.

Ordinary logic demands that these facts receive your immediate consideration if you have any need whatever for a truck.

SATURDAY, MAY 16, 1925.

Settle Carpenters' Strike

With no signs of peace apparent, the strike of 125 carpenters in the East Liverpool district, declared on May 1; is now in its third week, badly crippling building operations.

The workers walked out when their demand for a flat increase of one dollar a day over the present $10 scale was rejected by the contractors, who pointed out that a $11 a day wage scale would mean a corresponding increase in the cost of construction work which is now at a high mark.

On the other hand, employers have offered to renew the old agreement, but the carpenters are equally adamant in their refusal to accept the proposal.

All other branches of the building trades have renewed 1924 wage contracts with their employers. Included in this list are bricklayers, plasterers, hod carriers, painters, plumbers and electricians.

According to reports, with one exception, the old carpenters' scale is on a par with agreements in effect in other Ohio valley cities. In fact, it is claimed, in some cities a daily wage of less than $10 is paid.

Delay in settlement of the dispute is a blow to the community. The differences are not only preventing completion of work started early in the spring, but also are throwing cold water upon contemplated projects. In fact, the strike may mean abandonment of much building this year. Thus everybody—workers, employers and the public—will pay the penalty.

It is high time for the principals to get down to brass tacks and bury the hatchet.

Appetite Machines

One of the eastern universities is using a machine now to tell how much girl students ought to eat. It is a "respiration gauge."

The student's "basal metabolism," which is a fancy name for the amount of nourishment she needs, is shown by the way she breathes into this contraption after going without food for 12 to 18 hours. The machine shows the amount of oxygen she is consuming, and that in turn shows how much fuel she is burning up and needs to replace.

"If, for example," explains the professor of nutrition, "the cubic centimeter figure is 202, we know the girl's basal metabolism is 1,403 calories a day. This means she should have food representing about 2,200 calories a day to get the proper amount of nourishment." The girls are found to require 2,200 to 2,400 calories a day.

Basal metabolism indeed! The average girl, in college or out, finds her appetite a more satisfactory gauge than any mechanical invention. As for "calories," it simply makes her sick to rate nutritive values in figures and formulas, when what she wants is grub and plenty of it.

Girls have never eaten scientifically, and probably never will. Modern girls would rather study the soda fountain bill of fare than the nutrition table, and take a chance on the calories if they can only relieve that empty feeling.

Holland Makes More Land

The little country of the Netherlands might very well claim as its own the slogan "a bigger and better country," for it is literally enlarging its area in the next few years.

Holland is performing this miracle of adding square miles to its territory by draining a large section of the Zuider Zee and putting the ground under cultivation.

To much of the rest of the world Holland has long seemed a land wrested from the sea and forever guarding against the sea's return. The courageous little boy stopping the hole in the dyke with his finger has seemed typical of Holland. It is forever bringing submerged land into the light of day and putting it to good use. Since 1900 Holland has reclaimed 300,000 acres of such land. The present plans were prepared before the World war. They will add 540,000 acres to the country's present extent and leave only 250,000 acres still under the Zuider Zee.

When that body of water is completely drained and Holland needs still more acres for expansion, will it start work on the North Sea?

Pacific Defense

The Hawaiian Islands are valuable, both as real estate and as a key to the Pacific. They are roughly in the middle of that great ocean. They command routes to Asia, Australia and the Philippines. America is glad that it has the islands, and wants to keep them. They will become steadily more valuable and more popular as American interest shifts farther westward and the possibilities of Pacific trade and intercourse develop.

Uncle Sam, assuredly, doesn't want anybody to take Hawaii away from him, and will go to any length to safeguard it.

Nevertheless all these naval maneuvers around Hawaii, and all the ensuing talk about the spending of huge sums to strengthen Hawaiian fortifications and enlarge the sea and air defense, are a little puzzling. Most Americans have supposed that, as a result of the treaty entered into at Washington two years ago by the powers interested in the Pacific, the peace of that ocean was guaranteed and large expenditures for defense in that region were made unnecessary.

Is there to be an old-fashioned competitive scramble for defense again? It is disheartening to think of that treaty, in which Americans took so much satisfaction, turning into a dead letter.

NEW YORK DAYBYDAY

By O. O. McINTYRE

NEW YORK, May 16. — Those imposing temples of fashion on the avenue known as Maison This and That are models of discretion. Their secrets are many, for the bulk of their patronage comes from the crepe-de-chine creatures who are sometimes known as "wards."

Their books would break up many homes but their ledgers are of the loose-leaf kind and if a subpoena server tries to crash into the temple he may find nothing more incriminating than the black ashes of burned paper.

The general overseer is known as Madam. She has a queenly manner and fits perfectly into the elaborate fittings of the grand salon. She is a skillful flatterer and knows how to put Elderly Guardians quickly at their ease.

Madam has an alert mind. She has come from an errand girl in the sewing room to the high priestess role. Usually you will find that Madam has married several worthless men. She sees so much evidence of sin and deceit that she believes all men are rotters.

That is why she takes such keen delight in tripping them up for heavy purchases. She likes their accounts for she knows that they will pay and she can charge them what she will. Twice a year Madam goes to Paris and she knows the manners and phrases of the French couturier.

The fashionable temples are generally backed by syndicates and Madam in some instances receives a salary of $25,000 a year. She builds up her name and when she wishes to retire may sell the name for a sizeable sum.

Madam has a motherly interest in her models—those trim and lithe ladies who pace up and down from the dais with the slow, undulating stride. She will discharge them for only one thing—that is for being flirtatious. And that is why, they say, a mannikin will rarely smile on duty.

Bud Fisher, the cartoonist, perhaps owns the most expensive suit of clothes in the world. It cost him $21,000. The way of it was this: Bud now and then takes some of his vast earnings and makes an excursion into business. Recently he decided to back a tailor in a rather gaudy little salon on Madison Avenue. It was opened with a flourish. Bud ordered the first suit. He received it in a week. The next week the shop blew up in bankruptcy and all Fisher has retrieved out of the wreckage is that single suit of clothes.

One of the most accomplished composers of jazz strategems in Tin Pan Alley picks out his tunes on a zither. Still another is able to play only the harmonica. Earl Carroll plays the piano with on finger. Dave Stamper learned to play by ear while "slinging beer" at Coney Island. George Gershwin was a salesman. Gene Buck began his career drawing water color pictures for song titles. Ballard MacDonald was a clerk. Irving Berlin sang for pitched nickels in a Chinatown dive. All the fashioners of the dreamy, peachy banalities came from more or less obscurity. Not one from a conservatory of music.

One of Broadway's high flyers decided to play a practical joke on one of those $3 couvert charge cafes. He took a basket of food—ginger ale, hard boiled eggs, sandwiches, pickles and hot dogs. The proprietor gave him his best attention and entered gravely into the spirit of the joke. He presented a bill for wear and tear on silverware, $5; use of table, $25; listening to orchestra, $35; strain on waiter's nerves, $13. The total was $181. The waiter was tendered a dollar bill for payment and to the high flyer's surprise he received $1.12 in change.

HASKIN'S LETTER

BY FREDERIC J. HASKIN

How Uncle Sam Aids Industry.

WASHINGTON, May 16.—The trend of the age is toward perfection, whether it be in the matching of one's suit and tie, the handling of one's fork at a six-course dinner, or the manufacture of a product.

The advances of science have shown those who create commodities or render professional services that the twentieth century will not long tolerate mediocrity; it must have perfection, or as near perfection as possible. In other words, manufacturers must keep their products apace with the research of science if they would survive.

With this in view the department of Commerce, through its bureau of Standards, has increased its activity in research tending to benefit the manufactories and enterprises of the United States.

It has been since the war that this situation forced itself upon manufacturers. They found that more and more they had to solve their problems by scientific methods, or refer them to a suitably equipped laboratory. Of course, many industries are now handling their scientific posers by especially appointed laboratories in charge of trained experts, leaving the Bureau of Standard free to investigate the fundamentals of porduction. Such an arrangement is regarded as desirable, although the bureau stands ready to aid in any way it is needed, the only provision being that the results be made public.

It is claimed that this is a wise provision and a very necessary one and that it is obvious why it is made. The clay products may be taken as an industry example and an individual plant, say, in Little Rock, Arkansas, which wishes to discover the best method of removing impurities from clay. It transmits its problem

Bud Fisher, the cartoonist, perhaps owns the most expensive suit of clothes in the world. It cost him $21,000. The way of it was this: Bud now and then takes some of his vast earnings and makes an excursion into business. Recently he decided to back a tailor in a rather gaudy little salon on Madison Avenue. It was opened with a flourish. Bud ordered the first suit. He received it in a week. The next week the shop blew up in bankruptcy and all Fisher has retrieved out of the wreckage is that single suit of clothes.

One of the most accomplished composers of jazz strategems in Tin Pan Alley picks out his tunes on a zither. Still another is able to play only the harmonica. Earl Carroll plays the piano with on finger. Dave Stamper learned to play by ear while "slinging beer" at Coney Island. George Gershwin was a salesman. Gene Buck began his career drawing water color pictures for song titles. Ballard MacDonald was a clerk. Irving Berlin sang for pitched nickels in a Chinatown dive. All the fashioners of the dreamy, peachy banalities came from more or less obscurity. Not one from a conservatory of music.

One of Broadway's high flyers decided to play a practical joke on one of those $3 couvert charge cafes. He took a basket of food—ginger ale, hard boiled eggs, sandwiches, pickles and hot dogs. The proprietor gave him his best attention and entered gravely into the spirit of the joke. He presented a bill for wear and tear on silverware, $5; use of table, $25; listening to orchestra, $35; strain on waiter's nerves, $13. The total was $181. The waiter was tendered a dollar bill for payment and to the high flyer's surprise he received $1.12 in change.

HASKIN'S LETTER

BY FREDERIC J. HASKIN

How Uncle Sam Aids Industry.

WASHINGTON, May 16.—The trend of the age is toward perfection, whether it be in the matching of one's suit and tie, the handling of one's fork at a six-course dinner, or the manufacture of a product.

The advances of science have shown those who create commodities or render professional services that the twentieth century will not long tolerate mediocrity; it must have perfection, or as near perfection as possible. In other words, manufacturers must keep their products apace with the research of science if they would survive.

With this in view the department of Commerce, through its bureau of Standards, has increased its activity in research tending to benefit the manufactories and enterprises of the United States.

It has been since the war that this situation forced itself upon manufacturers. They found that more and more they had to solve their problems by scientific methods, or refer them to a suitably equipped laboratory. Of course, many industries are now handling their scientific posers by especially appointed laboratories in charge of trained experts, leaving the Bureau of Standard free to investigate the fundamentals of porduction. Such an arrangement is regarded as desirable, although the bureau stands ready to aid in any way it is needed, the only provision being that the results be made public.

It is claimed that this is a wise provision and a very necessary one and that it is obvious why it is made. The clay products may be taken as an industry example and an individual plant, say, in Little Rock, Arkansas, which wishes to discover the best method of removing impurities from clay. It transmits its problem

Junior-Senior Banquet Held in Gymnasium Is Elaborate Event

One of the most elaborate Junior-Senior banquet in years was held last evening in the gymnasium of the East Liverpool high school. The decorating committee, which included Wallace Sample, chairman, Helen Sturgis, Mellie Kenney, Marjorie Hilbert and Clifford Bough, transformed the hall into a bower of class colors of blue and white. The ceiling was a canopy of crepe ribbons festooned from a medallion, which bore the class portraits, the walls were adorned with streamers, and over the door in blue and white were the letters, "Welcome." The basketball baskets were decorated with the colors of the class of '25 and that of the class of '26. An alcove was formed in one corner of the room by the aid of ferns, palms and baskets of peonies, in which the Ortle orchestra, composed of Ohio State collegians, played the attractive musical program for the dancing. The grand march was led by the Junior class president, George Allison, and Miss Sara Pollock. James Perry was chairman of the social and entertainment committee.

During the evening several contests were featured, trophies being awarded as follows: Prettiest senior, Miss Mary Smith; best looking boy, Wayne Furrer; best student, Jennings Horger; sheik, Fred Lamping; senior class sheikess, Miss Lozella Birch; most popular girl, Miss Dorothy Cooper; most popular boy, Dale Liebschner; best athletic girl, Miss Dorothy Cooper; best athletic boy, Charles McConville; most likely senior to succeed, E. K. Bennett; the junior trophies were as follows: Miss Marjorie Hilbert, most talkative girl; sheik, Robert Bloor; sheikess, Miss Edith Boice, and Miss Helen Sturgis was awarded the trophy for the beauty prize for the whole high school.

Things to Know About Our Service

"Do it Electrically"

Good Light Means Good Eyesight

The National Safety Council sponsors this set of rules for proper lighting:—

1. Light should shine on the object under gaze, not in the observer's eyes.
2. Glare, which is light out of place, should be overcome by the use of diffusing glass shades.
3. Strong contrasts of light and shadow should be avoided. Indirect lighting is preferred for general illumination.
4. Avoid the glare of reflections from polished surfaces.
5. Both too much and too little light strains and fatigues the eyes. Irritation also results from unsteady, flickering or streaked light.

Save your eyesight! You can never replace it. Let us help you on any lighting problem in home, office, factory or store.

30,000 Nonogenarians In Japan According To Census Figures

TOKIO—There are approximately 30,000 nonogenarians in Japan, according to statistics gathered by the department of home affairs.

On the occasion of the silver wedding anniversary of the emperor and the empress, which will be celebrated on May 10, every man and woman in the empire who has attained or passed the age of 90 will receive a gift from the imperial household. The census taken by the home department was to determine how many are eligible to receive the gifts.

In the city of Tokio there are 91 persons who are more than 90 years of age, 66 being women and 25 men. The oldest persons in Tokio are 96, there being four men who have reached that age.

A company has been organized in Rumania to exhibit films in schools.

Things to Know About Our Service

"Do it Electrically"

Good Light Means Good Eyesight

The National Safety Council sponsors this set of rules for proper lighting:—

1. Light should shine on the object under gaze, not in the observer's eyes.
2. Glare, which is light out of place, should be overcome by the use of diffusing glass shades.
3. Strong contrasts of light and shadow should be avoided. Indirect lighting is preferred for general illumination.
4. Avoid the glare of reflections from polished surfaces.
5. Both too much and too little light strains and fatigues the eyes. Irritation also results from unsteady, flickering or streaked light.

Save your eyesight! You can never replace it. Let us help you on any lighting problem in home, office, factory or store.

SATURDAY, MAY 16, 1925.

Settle Carpenters' Strike

With no signs of peace apparent, the strike of 125 carpenters in the East Liverpool district, declared on May 1; is now in its third week, badly crippling building operations.

The workers walked out when their demand for a flat increase of one dollar a day over the present $10 scale was rejected by the contractors, who pointed out that a $11 a day wage scale would mean a corresponding increase in the cost of construction work which is now at a high mark.

On the other hand, employers have offered to renew the old agreement, but the carpenters are equally adamant in their refusal to accept the proposal.

All other branches of the building trades have renewed 1924 wage contracts with their employers. Included in this list are bricklayers, plasterers, hod carriers, painters, plumbers and electricians.

According to reports, with one exception, the old carpenters' scale is on a par with agreements in effect in other Ohio valley cities. In fact, it is claimed, in some cities a daily wage of less than $10 is paid.

Delay in settlement of the dispute is a blow to the community. The differences are not only preventing completion of work started early in the spring, but also are throwing cold water upon contemplated projects. In fact, the strike may mean abandonment of much building this year. Thus everybody—workers, employers and the public—will pay the penalty.

It is high time for the principals to get down to brass tacks and bury the hatchet.

Appetite Machines

One of the eastern universities is using a machine now to tell how much girl students ought to eat. It is a "respiration gauge."

The student's "basal metabolism," which is a fancy name for the amount of nourishment she needs, is shown by the way she breathes into this contraption after going without food for 12 to 18 hours. The machine shows the amount of oxygen she is consuming, and that in turn shows how much fuel she is burning up and needs to replace.

"If, for example," explains the professor of nutrition, "the cubic centimeter figure is 202, we know the girl's basal metabolism is 1,403 calories a day. This means she should have food representing about 2,200 calories a day to get the proper amount of nourishment." The girls are found to require 2,200 to 2,400 calories a day.

Basal metabolism indeed! The average girl, in college or out, finds her appetite a more satisfactory gauge than any mechanical invention. As for "calories," it simply makes her sick to rate nutritive values in figures and formulas, when what she wants is grub and plenty of it.

Girls have never eaten scientifically, and probably never will. Modern girls would rather study the soda fountain bill of fare than the nutrition table, and take a chance on the calories if they can only relieve that empty feeling.

Holland Makes More Land

The little country of the Netherlands might very well claim as its own the slogan "a bigger and better country," for it is literally enlarging its area in the next few years.

Holland is performing this miracle of adding square miles to its territory by draining a large section of the Zuider Zee and putting the ground under cultivation.

To much of the rest of the world Holland has long seemed a land wrested from the sea and forever guarding against the sea's return. The courageous little boy stopping the hole in the dyke with his finger has seemed typical of Holland. It is forever bringing submerged land into the light of day and putting it to good use. Since 1900 Holland has reclaimed 300,000 acres of such land. The present plans were prepared before the World war. They will add 540,000 acres to the country's present extent and leave only 250,000 acres still under the Zuider Zee.

When that body of water is completely drained and Holland needs still more acres for expansion, will it start work on the North Sea?

Pacific Defense

The Hawaiian Islands are valuable, both as real estate and as a key to the Pacific. They are roughly in the middle of that great ocean. They command routes to Asia, Australia and the Philippines. America is glad that it has the islands, and wants to keep them. They will become steadily more valuable and more popular as American interest shifts farther westward and the possibilities of Pacific trade and intercourse develop.

Uncle Sam, assuredly, doesn't want anybody to take Hawaii away from him, and will go to any length to safeguard it.

Nevertheless all these naval maneuvers around Hawaii, and all the ensuing talk about the spending of huge sums to strengthen Hawaiian fortifications and enlarge the sea and air defense, are a little puzzling. Most Americans have supposed that, as a result of the treaty entered into at Washington two years ago by the powers interested in the Pacific, the peace of that ocean was guaranteed and large expenditures for defense in that region were made unnecessary.

Is there to be an old-fashioned competitive scramble for defense again? It is disheartening to think of that treaty, in which Americans took so much satisfaction, turning into a dead letter.

NEW YORK DAYBYDAY

By O. O. McINTYRE

NEW YORK, May 16. — Those imposing temples of fashion on the avenue known as Maison This and That are models of discretion. Their secrets are many, for the bulk of their patronage comes from the crepe-de-chine creatures who are sometimes known as "wards."

Their books would break up many homes but their ledgers are of the loose-leaf kind and if a subpoena server tries to crash into the temple he may find nothing more incriminating than the black ashes of burned paper.

The general overseer is known as Madam. She has a queenly manner and fits perfectly into the elaborate fittings of the grand salon. She is a skillful flatterer and knows how to put Elderly Guardians quickly at their ease.

Madam has an alert mind. She has come from an errand girl in the sewing room to the high priestess role. Usually you will find that Madam has married several worthless men. She sees so much evidence of sin and deceit that she believes all men are rotters.

That is why she takes such keen delight in tripping them up for heavy purchases. She likes their accounts for she knows that they will pay and she can charge them what she will. Twice a year Madam goes to Paris and she knows the manners and phrases of the French couturier.

The fashionable temples are generally backed by syndicates and Madam in some instances receives a salary of $25,000 a year. She builds up her name and when she wishes to retire may sell the name for a sizeable sum.

Madam has a motherly interest in her models—those trim and lithe ladies who pace up and down from the dais with the slow, undulating stride. She will discharge them for only one thing—that is for being flirtatious. And that is why, they say, a mannikin will rarely smile on duty.

Bud Fisher, the cartoonist, perhaps owns the most expensive suit of of clothes in the world. It cost him $21,000. The way of it was this: Bud now and then takes some of his vast earnings and makes an excursion into business. Recently he decided to back a tailor in a rather gaudy little salon on Madison Avenue. It was opened with a flourish. Bud ordered the first suit. He received it in a week. The next week the shop blew up in bankruptcy and all Fisher has retrieved out of the wreckage is that single suit of clothes.

One of the most accomplished composers of jazz strategems in Tin Pan Alley picks out his tunes on a zither. Still another is able to play only the harmonica. Earl Carroll plays the piano with on finger. Dave Stamper learned to play by ear while "slinging beer" at Coney Island. George Gershwin was a salesman. Gene Buck began his career drawing water color pictures for song titles. Ballard MacDonald was a clerk. Irving Berlin sang for pitched nickels in a Chinatown dive. All the fashioners of the dreamy, peachy banalities came from more or less obscurity. Not one from a conservatory of music.

One of Broadway's high flyers decided to play a practical joke on one of those $3 couvert charge cafes. He took a basket of food—ginger ale, hard boiled eggs, sandwiches, pickles and hot dogs. The proprietor gave him his best attention and entered gravely into the spirit of the joke. He presented a bill for wear and tear on silverware, $5; use of table, $25; listening to orchestra, $35; strain on waiter's nerves, $13. The total was $181. The waiter was tendered a dollar bill for payment and to the high flyer's surprise he received $1.12 in change.

How Uncle Sam Aids Industry.

WASHINGTON, May 16.—The trend of the age is toward perfection, whether it be in the matching of one's suit and tie, the handling of one's fork at a six-course dinner, or the manufacture of a product.

The advances of science have shown those who create commodities or render professional services that the twentieth century will not long tolerate mediocrity; it must have perfection, or as near perfection as possible. In other words, manufacturers must keep their products apace with the research of science if they would survive.

With this in view the department of Commerce, through its bureau of Standards, has increased its activity in research tending to benefit the manufactories and enterprises of the United States.

It has been since the war that this situation forced itself upon manufacturers. They found that more and more they had to solve their problems by scientific methods, or refer them to a suitably equipped laboratory. Of course, many industries are now handling their scientific posers by especially appointed laboratories in charge of trained experts, leaving the Bureau of Standard free to investigate the fundamentals of porduction. Such an arrangement is regarded as desirable, although the bureau stands ready to aid in any way it is needed, the only provision being that the results be made public.

It is claimed that this is a wise provision and a very necessary one and that it is obvious why it is made. The clay products may be taken as an industry example and an individual plant, say, in Little Rock, Arkansas, which wishes to discover the best method of removing impurities from clay. Junior-Senior Banquet Held in Gymnasium Is Elaborate Event

One of the most elaborate Junior-Senior banquet in years was held last evening in the gymnasium of the East Liverpool high school. The decorating committee, which included Wallace Sample, chairman, Helen Sturgis, Mellie Kenney, Marjorie Hilbert and Clifford Bough, transformed the hall into a bower of class colors of blue and white. The ceiling was a canopy of crepe ribbons festooned from a medallion, which bore the class portraits, the walls were adorned with streamers, and over the door in blue and white were the letters, "Welcome." The basketball baskets were decorated with the colors of the class of '25 and that of the class of '26. An alcove was formed in one corner of the room by the aid of ferns, palms and baskets of peonies, in which the Ortle orchestra, composed of Ohio State collegians, played the attractive musical program for the dancing. The grand march was led by the Junior class president, George Allison, and Miss Sara Pollock. James Perry was chairman of the social and entertainment committee.

During the evening several contests were featured, trophies being awarded as follows: Prettiest senior, Miss Mary Smith; best looking boy, Wayne Furrer; best student, Jennings Horger; sheik, Fred Lamping; senior class sheikess, Miss Lozella Birch; most popular girl, Miss Dorothy Cooper; most popular boy, Dale Liebschner; best athletic girl, Miss Dorothy Cooper; best athletic boy, Charles McConville; most likely senior to succeed, E. K. Bennett; the junior trophies were as follows: Miss Marjorie Hilbert, most talkative girl; sheik, Robert Bloor; sheikess, Miss Edith Boice, and Miss Helen Sturgis was awarded the trophy for the beauty prize for the whole high school.

Danceland Party Tonight.

"Men are Worth As Much as Their Glands"

DR. SERGE VORONOFF, of France, who has devoted years to experiment in glandular treatment, has said: "A man is worth only as much as his glands." He has also stated that the functioning of our organs is no more than the result of the activity of our glands, and when the bodily functioning is disturbed, the cause in most cases should be sought, not in the condition of the organ itself, but in the condition of the gland which controls it.

Glandogen, the new scientific glands, and when the bodily function- convenient tablet form, for men and for women, provides a simple method of taking glandular treatment. Accept no substitutes. Insist on genuine Glandogen, the original gland tonic.

Making a 100% Wife Out of $100,000 Worth of Dimples

When Wealthy Mr. Nirdlinger Saw the Dimpled "Miss St. Louis" He Exclaimed: "What a Stage Star She'd Make!" Later On He Added: "And What a Wife!"

Miss Charlotte Nash, the Blue Ribbon Bathing Beauty Who Married the Philadelphia Millionaire, After Being Finished Off to Suit His Taste.

Literature, History and French for Intellectual Background—25 Per Cent.

Horseback Riding for Physical Development—20 Per Cent.

Music Lessons to Promote Social Competence -25 Per Cent

Interpretative and Ballet Dancing and Dramatic Expression, for Grace and Poise—30 Per Cent.

The Hundred Per Cent Wife Appraises the Dimples Which Her Husband Had Insured for $100,000.

By WINIFRED VAN DUZER.

WHEN Miss Charlotte Nash was leaving St. Louis to represent her home town in the bathing beauty contest at Atlantic City last year her friends all advised her:

"Remember that your face is your fortune! Although you have been judged the prettiest girl in St. Louis, you're only a kid with no special education, social training, position or wealth. But your dimples alone are worth stacks of money!"

So Charlotte went to the pulchritude pageant wondering if her face would prove the same sort of fortune to her that a tiny foot once proved to another Cinderella.

And it did!

For it happened that one of the chairmen of the inter-city beauty contest was Fred G. Nixon-Nirdlinger, wealthy theatrical magnate of Philadelphia.

And although Mr. Nirdlinger had met many famous beauties during forty years of theatrical experience, and although the pick of feminine good looks from all over the United States surrounded him, he couldn't take his eyes from Miss St. Louis and her dimples.

"What a wonderful musical comedy star she'd make!" he told his friends. "All she needs is a little training. Have you noticed her dimples?"

They had noticed. And they remembered how Nirdlinger had helped many women ascend from lowly places in the chorus to stardom by offering a suggestion here, a selection there; directing the change of accent, adoption of a more becoming type of dress, a different manner of arranging their hair.

So nobody who had felt the charm of Charlotte's beauty of face and figure, the sparkle of her deep eyes, the glinting lights in her hair and her peach blossom complexion was surprised when word went out that Nirdlinger had become her sponsor and manager, with the avowed intention of helping her win all the prizes in the Atlantic City contest.

With his assistants he taught her much that would aid in presenting her points to the greatest advantage. Special bathing suits were ordered to accentuate the lines of her figure. A publicity agent was hired to write glowing descriptions of her for the newspapers.

And to make sure that there might be no slip, the millionaire dropped into an insurance office one day and insured her dimples for $100,000!

The pageant came. Midst the plaudits of the judges and trained observers the chairman of the contest saw his protege walk away with first honors in the Boardwalk parade, the most spectacular event of the entire tournament. Later she won fourth prize in the contest of international beauties.

"The perfect girl!" said everybody then. "Nirdlinger was right—what a star she will make!"

"Yes," the Philadelphian commented absently. "And what a wife she would make!"

"What?" they gasped. "What do you mean?"

"Oh, nothing," he replied. "You've said she is the 'perfect girl' and she is—physically. Nevertheless, I find defects in her. My lifelong ambition is to sponsor the most attractive woman in all history depends on getting rid of them. So now I am going to make the perfect girl a 'perfect lady!'"

Then everybody began to wonder if there was anything significant in Nirdlinger's inadvertent remark, "what a wife she would make!" It was whispered that a "perfect" marriage was one of his fondest dreams. Was it possible that he was thinking of making a hundred per cent wife out of a hundred thousand dollars' worth of dimples?

Twice in years gone by Nirdlinger had attempted to realize the "perfect" marriage. Each time, however, he was bitterly disappointed.

"But," everybody explained, "his brides were older than Miss St. Louis and more set in their ways and harder to bring round to any realization of what a hundred per cent wife should be.

"This little prize-winner isn't quite eighteen. She's what you might call raw material. She'd be a made-to-order bride!"

It was more than twenty years ago that Nirdlinger met the first woman whom he thought he could make over into a hundred per cent wife.

She was Lulu Granger and she starred in his first production, playing opposite Raymond Hitchcock in "Miss Bob White." Nirdlinger and Miss Granger were so embarrassed when a couple bearing almost identical names were married near Philadelphia, and they were put to the necessity of denying that they were the two, that their association was broken up. But he never gave up hope. Perhaps he once dreamed of building his first wife the former Teresa Burke, into his ideal. But they were divorced and he met Laura McKenna.

He coached her for awhile and everybody said that he promised to make her the most attractive woman in the world. When he was well on the way to success they were married, and it was a long time before it became known that not only was Laura proving to be far from the perfect woman, but their marriage had developed many serious defects. They were divorced.

"But if he's investing in the Nash dimples with a view to matrimony he's going about it in a very original manner," said his friends. "Have you heard that he's got her into the National Park Seminary at Forest Glen, Maryland?"

It was true. While the names of hundreds remained on the waiting list of the fashionable and highly exclusive school, Nirdlinger managed through influential connections to place his protege.

Throughout the year that she was a student she received an allowance double that of her classmates. Her clothes were extravagant. She mingled with the daughters of America's leading families. In her spare hours a governess was specially employed to instruct her in the fine points of social deportment.

Her voice was toned down and modulated by vocal training. Grace of lines and movement were insured by dancing lessons. She learned to ride horseback.

At Christmas Nirdlinger visited her. He told his friends that her poise fascinated him and that she showed improvement beyond his hopes.

"He's investing too much money in a stage possibility," they said.

In February Charlotte again received a visit from her benefactor, and this time he told her that she was as nearly perfect as he cared his bride to be. So without a word to the friends who had been watching his experiment for nearly a year, the two slipped over to Hagerstown, Md., and were married.

But something happened while they were on the high seas, sailing to Paris for their wedding trip—something which may not menace Nirdlinger's "perfect" marriage in the least, but which, in fact, may make its perfection enough of a gamble to flavor it attractively.

The something was just a bit of a quarrel. What it was about or how it began, no one knows. Out in St. Louis Daddy J. B. Nash declared that he was completely baffled, while over in Paris Mamma Nash, who accompanied her daughter on her wedding trip, helped her pack and sail for home, begging all the while to be told what it meant.

But the two no sooner had set foot in New York than little Mrs. Nirdlinger was showered with cables imploring her to return to Paris and her bridegroom.

And she did—on the next boat. And ever after, or until this moment, at least, they have lived happily.

Literature, History and French for Intellectual Background—25 Per Cent.

By WINIFRED VAN DUZER.

WHEN Miss Charlotte Nash was leaving St. Louis to represent her home town in the bathing beauty contest at Atlantic City last year her friends all advised her: "Remember that your face is your fortune! Although you have been judged the prettiest girl in St. Louis, you're only a kid with no special education, social training, position or wealth. But your dimples alone are worth stacks of money!"

So Charlotte went to the pulchritude pageant wondering if her face would prove the same sort of fortune to her that a tiny foot once proved to another Cinderella.

And it did!

For it happened that one of the chairmen of the inter-city beauty contest was Fred G. Nixon-Nirdlinger, wealthy theatrical magnate of Philadelphia.

And although Mr. Nirdlinger had met many famous beauties during forty years of theatrical experience, and although the pick of feminine good looks from all over the United States surrounded him, he couldn't take his eyes from Miss St. Louis and her dimples.

"What a wonderful musical comedy star she'd make!" he told his friends. "All she needs is a little training. Have you noticed her dimples?"

They had noticed. And they remembered how Nirdlinger had helped many women ascend from lowly places in the chorus to stardom by offering a suggestion here, a selection there; directing the change of accent, adoption of a more becoming type of dress, a different manner of arranging their hair.

So nobody who had felt the charm of Charlotte's beauty of face and figure, the sparkle of her deep eyes, the glinting lights in her hair and her peach blossom complexion was surprised when word went out that Nirdlinger had become her sponsor and manager, with the avowed intention of helping her win all the prizes in the Atlantic City contest.

With his assistants he taught her much that would aid in presenting her points to the greatest advantage. Special bathing suits were ordered to accentuate the lines of her figure. A publicity agent was hired to write glowing descriptions of her for the newspapers.

And to make sure that there might be no slip, the millionaire dropped into an insurance office one day and insured her dimples for $100,000!

The pageant came. Midst the plaudits of the judges and trained observers the chairman of the contest saw his protege walk away with first honors in the Boardwalk parade, the most spectacular event of the entire tournament. Later she won fourth prize in the contest of international beauties.

"The perfect girl!" said everybody then. "Nirdlinger was right—what a star she will make!"

"Yes," the Philadelphian commented absently. "And what a wife she would make!"

"What?" they gasped. "What do you mean?"

"Oh, nothing," he replied. "You've said she is the 'perfect girl' and she is—physically. Nevertheless, I find defects in her. My lifelong ambition is to sponsor the most attractive woman in all history depends on getting rid of them. So now I am going to make the perfect girl a 'perfect lady!'"

Then everybody began to wonder if there was anything significant in Nirdlinger's inadvertent remark, "what a wife she would make!" It was whispered that a "perfect" marriage was one of his fondest dreams. Was it possible that he was thinking of making a hundred per cent wife out of a hundred thousand dollars' worth of dimples?

Twice in years gone by Nirdlinger had attempted to realize the "perfect" marriage. Each time, however, he was bitterly disappointed.

"But," everybody explained, "his brides were older than Miss St. Louis and more set in their ways and harder to bring round to any realization of what a hundred per cent wife should be.

'He Who Gets Slapped' A Film Milestone

"He Who Gets Slapped" is a motion picture production that can truthfully be called great. It opens at the American Monday and is doing capacity business during this engagement for the picture is one of the finest contributions of the year.

Victor Seastrom, Lon Chaney and Leonid Andreyev share honors for this remarkable photoplay. Andreyev's story is internationally famous. Seastrom conclusively demonstrated by his masterful handling of the story that he is one of the foremost directors of the day. Chaney gives what is probably his best performance. As the clown in 'He Who Gets Slapped' Chaney is not a grotesque figure, but a human and sympathetic character who will tug at the heartstrings of everyone.

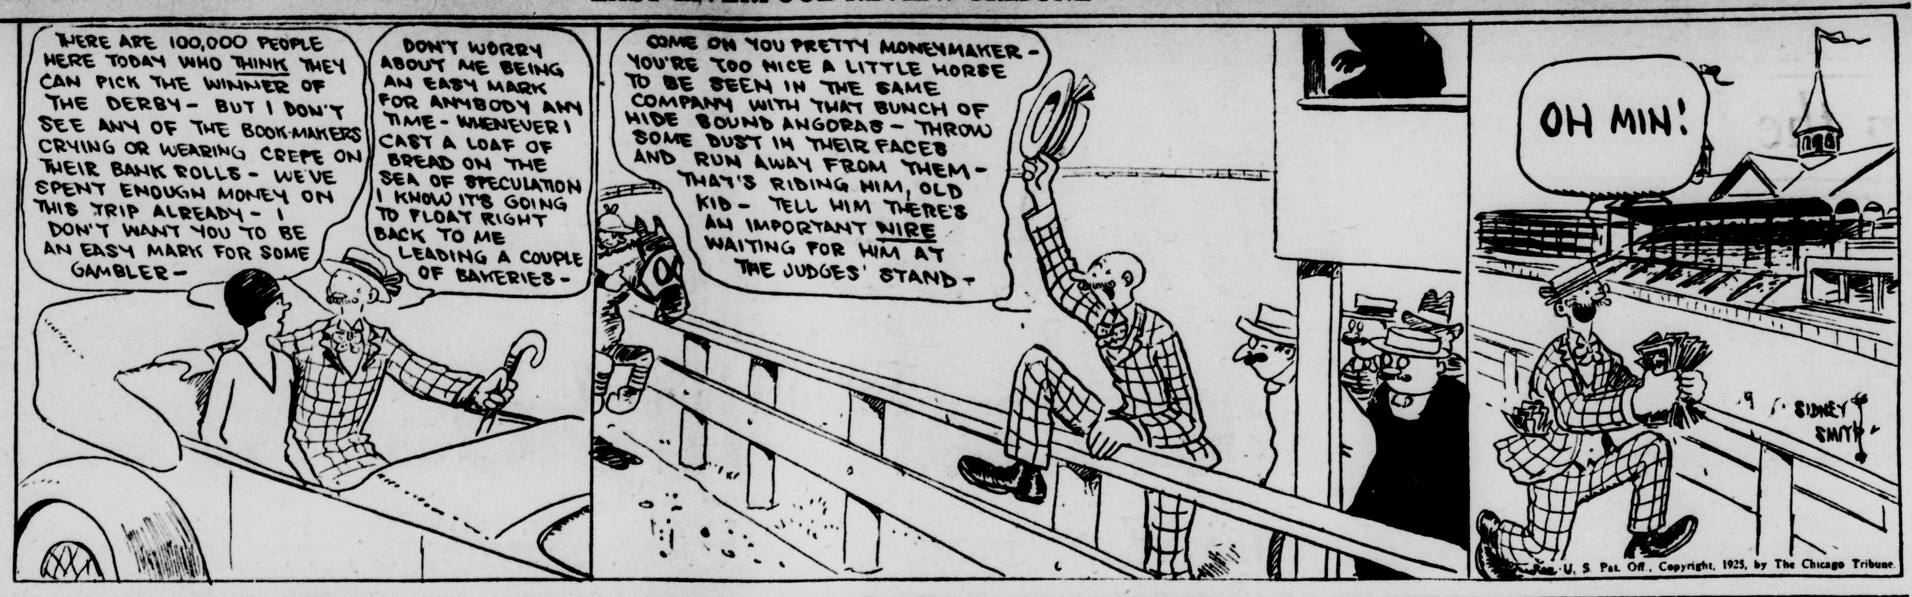

The story centers about a noted scientist whose life work and wife are taken by a man who was supposed to be his friend. Despondent, the scientist joins a circus as a clown. This gives an opportunity for many amusing touches and also for a tender love story. While the story is essentially a tragic one, the background of the European circus takes away any depression that might result.

Norma Shearer is the girl in the story and she gives a very good performance. Miss Shearer is one of the most beautiful girls in pictures and photographs especially well in "He Who Gets Slapped."

John Gilbert, as the young circus rider, also gives an excellent characterization. The other members of the cast are equally good in their parts.

SUFFERED TWO YEARS

Finally Relieved by Taking Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, Says Mrs. Anderson

Rangeley, Maine. — "Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound helped me greatly for bearing-down pains in the sides and back, headaches and tired feelings. I suffered for two years and it seemed as though I could not get my work done from one day to the next. After reading letters from others who had taken the Vegetable Compound I decided to try it and now I can do all kinds of work, sewing, washing, ironing and sweeping. I live on a farm and have five in the family so am busy most of the time. I recommend the Vegetable Compound to my friends and hope my letter will help some one to take your medicine."— Mrs. WALTER E. ANDERSON, Box 270, Rangeley, Maine.

Over 200,000 women have so far replied to our question, "Have you received benefit from taking Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound?"

98 out of every 100 of the replies say, "yes," and because the Vegetable Compound has been helping other women it should help you. For sale by druggists everywhere.

Mr. Harry Goble Tells How Cuticura Healed Eruptions

"My back began to itch and burn and a rash of small pimples broke out across my shoulders. The pimples were hard and red and scaled over, and would break and scale over again. They itched and burned causing me to scratch until my back was covered with sore eruptions. The eruptions were so sore that when I lay down I could not get a bit of sleep.

"I read an advertisement for Cuticura Soap and Ointment and purchased some. In a few days I got relief, and after using three cakes of Soap and one and a half boxes of Ointment I was healed." (Signed) Harry Goble, Lexington, Nebr., July 5, 1924.

These fragrant emollients are all you need for all toilet purposes. Soap to cleanse and purify, Ointment to soothe and heal, Talcum to powder and sweeten.

Soap 25c. Ointment 25 and 50c. Talcum 25c. Sold everywhere. Sample each free. Address: "Cuticura Laboratories, Dept. M, Malden, Mass." Cuticura Shaving Stick 25c.

Kentucky Beauty Is Accused Following Daring Bank Robbery

Does she look like a bank bandit? Louisville, Ky., police are holding Mrs. Lucille Daugherty, 22, on the charge of aiding in the robbery of the Portland Bank. Her husband and his brother are being sought as members of the bandit gang.

Two County Men Will be Paroled From Reformatory

Two Columbiana county men—John Densmore and Clarence Cope—will be paroled from the Mansfield reformatory on June 15.

Cope was sentenced to the reformatory for a term of from one to 15 years, on April 22, 1924, after he had been convicted of burglary at Salem. He will have served almost 14 months in the institution when his pardon becomes effective.

No records are available at the office of Clerk of Courts Burns regarding Densmore's case, although he is listed as having been committed by the Columbiana county courts.

"Ours Is the Church With a Progressive Vision"

The Kingdom of Messiah

millions now living will never die

Surely the time when God's will is done on earth as in heaven, is not a period of uneventful bliss and passive inertness, as some people believe.

The Kingdom of God, which was foretold by the prophets and for which Jesus taught His disciples to pray, is a new world on earth, bettered by a more nearly perfect man.

And a perfect man possesses ideals and capabilities to be employed in the creation of better conveniences and the exploration of the phenomena of natural forces.

To know of God's plan for everlasting life of mankind on earth is to lift those depressing feelings that weigh so heavily upon them now.

The Kingdom of Messiah

millions now living will never die

Surely the time when God's will is done on earth as in heaven, is not a period of uneventful bliss and passive inertness, as some people believe.

The Kingdom of God, which was foretold by the prophets and for which Jesus taught His disciples to pray, is a new world on earth, bettered by a more nearly perfect man.

And a perfect man possesses ideals and capabilities to be employed in the creation of better conveniences and the exploration of the phenomena of natural forces.

To know of God's plan for everlasting life of mankind on earth is to lift those depressing feelings that weigh so heavily upon them now.

City Industrial League Leaders Take First Defeat of Season

Laughlin Tossers Hand Riley's Club Inaugural Setback

Reese Pitches Bricelin Nine to 12 to 4 Conquest, Allowing Five Hits; Hoy and Bennett are Hit Hard by Newell Club.

BEFORE a large crowd, Laughlin defeated Chester in a City Industrial league contest at Newell Friday evening, 12 to 4.

Hoy, passing two men and allowing a double, was relieved in the first inning by Duck, who was hit hard and timely, and later gave way to P. Bennett.

Reese went along easily, allowing but five hits.

McConnell, playing his first game for Laughlin, and Babb and Myers, of the same team, had perfect days at the bat.

Rector retired from the game when he sustained a split finger in the third inning just before starting a double play.

Louisville Is Mecca For Turfdom's Fans

By Davis J. Walsh.

LOUISVILLE, May 16.—As Mecca is the objective of the focal point of the great American pilgrimage to the shrine of the thoroughbred Shank, its disciples prostrated on prayer rugs that bore a singular resemblance to a five dollar mutuel ticket on a possible winner of the $50,000 Kentucky derby, Louisville today was in the midst of its annual frenzy, with 75,000 visitors gorging its highways and the music of approaching hoofbeats tingling in its civiv ear.

There is only one Kentucky derby and it will be held late this afternoon at Churchill Downs.

The sky was cloudy early in the day, and if it makes good its threat, the entire aspect of the fifty first running of the turf's three year old classic will be changed. The official weather forecast was for showers.

Quatrain, of the Frederick Johnson string, opened a staunch favorite on the supposition that the track would be as dry as a mouthful of Alkali dust. But, if they liked him on a dry track, their regard would be almost reverential in the mud. They would back him right off the horizon.

Hope ran high, however, that the early threat of rain would not become a fulfillment. The disciples were ready to worship at the shrine, but they had no fancy for doing it in the mud. This not only would be unpleasant for man and beast, but would ruin what competition such as Captain Hal and other fancied starters might care to offer.

The Captain cannot run in the mud and lost caste, any how, the belief having become general that he left his on the track some days ago when he went the full Derby distance of a mile and a quarter in 2:05 1-5.

Much doubt existed today as to whether he ever was a distance horse at any time.

Similarly a suspicion seemed to have gained ground that Quatrain lacked something of the class demanded of a Derby winner. The experts contended that he never had beaten a real running horse. But the dear public was with him almost to a man, neverthless.

Backbone and Chantey were better horses, it was said. They ran disappointing races in the Preakness, but the boys claim this was all wrong and should be stopped. No doubt about it, the Whitney pair, coupled with Reminder and The Bat, will get strong play.

One factor, however, seemed to have been overlooked. The Derby field probably will number as many as 20 after the trainers get the scratches out of their systems, and Chantey is right in the middle. His position couldn't be worse, and it is a matter of Derby record that a horse off badly seldom gets up in the money. Captain Hal drew the position next to Chantey, yet has the advantage of being a rapid starter.

But the Cardinal, one place removed, may find himself in the same pocket with Chantey.

Backbone and Almadel drew excellent positions on the outside, and so did Quatrain. The latter may be a reluctant post horse, but he faces the probability of running his race without interference.

It was on account of his favorable position that Flying Ebony came to be fancied, although the fact that Earl Sande was to ride him, no doubt, influenced this sentiment in part. The Cochrane netry, always fast from the mark, was placed between a pair of slow ones in Chief Uncas and Elector, and, barring the unforeseen, seemed due to get away running. Singlefoot, one of the dark horses, also was favorably situated.

SHOT-PUT MARK IS RULED OUT

Hum, of Lisbon, who in 1912, put the 12-pound shot a distance of 43 feet 11 inches, still holds the official Columbiana County Track and Field association record for that particular event.

The toss of 44 feet and 9 inches, made by Banks, of Wellsville, a week ago today at Lisbon, has been ruled off the books by D. M. Williams, of Girard high, the official meet referee, according to announcement by Superintendent W. H. Geiger, of Lisbon, head of the county association.

According to Superintendent Geiger, Referee Williams declared the shot used during this event last Saturday was three-fourths of a pound light and therefore not up to specifications.

As a result, there is no new record, although points made by the athletes who placed in the event will stand, inasmuch as practically all of the contestants used the questionable iron ball.

According to announcement by Superintendent Geiger, an investigation of the affair will be instituted by the County Schoolmasters' club at its next meeting.

The Phillies advanced to the dizzy heights of third place by handing the Cubs an 8 to 4 defeat.

SCHOLASTICS DOWN NEWELL

Locals Bunch Hits in Fourth Frame for Four Runs.

The East Liverpool Scholastics hung up another victory yesterday afternoon on Patterson field when they trimmed the Newell high school nine, 6 to 3.

Mackall, Scholastic twirler, had an edge on Watson, of the visitors, during the battle. Mackall pitched shutout ball for the first six innings. The visitors, however, got to his offerings in the seventh and last inning. Watson was touched up hard in the fifth frame. However, he registered 10 strikeouts.

The locals scored in the first frame when Pusey clouted the ball for three sacks and reached home on a passed ball. They scored again in the second on McKee's home run drive. In the fifth four more runners crossed the plate. Both McConville and English hit safely and executed a double steal as Schneidmiller fanned. Both rambled home on McKee's double to right and McKee made the circuit on Rariden's erratic throw. Kinsey lined over short and went to second on a wild pitch. Maley's infield hit advanced him to third and a passed ball sent him around.

Newell's runs were recorded in the final frame. Watson tripled, Dittimer hit to Kinsey at third and Kinsey played for Watson, going to the plate. The play was bobbled and Watson counted, Dittimer going to second. Rariden singled and Dittimer tallied on English's wild peg to first. Mills singled, scoring Rariden.

PHILADELPHIA, May 16.—Philadelphia got the edge on the series with the Chicago by finishing on the losing end of an 8 to 4 count. Blake and Jacobs were both found for hits at opportune times.

Relief Hurler Knight stopped the Cubs when they found Betts weakening. Jimmy Wilson had a home run and a perfect day at bat. Grimm also hit each time up.

SCHOOL TROPHY IS RECOVERED

Cup, Stolen Last Saturday, Found Beneath Dance Hall.

The Columbiana County Track and Field association trophy cup, stolen from the office at the fairground last Saturday afternoon while the twenty-second annual meet was under way, has been recovered. It is now in the possession of Salem high school, winner of the meet.

Fairground workmen found the cup concealed beneath a large can under the dance pavilion at the frairground. It had not been marred.

When the cup was taken from the office Saturday, the wooden base was left behind and this was taken to Salem at the time. Yesterday the cup was turned over to O. M. Rohrabaugh, of Salem high school, by Superintendent W. H. Geiger, of Lisbon, president of the association.

However, the mystery which surrounds the transfer of the cup from the office to its hiding place, remains unsolved.

Louisville Is Mecca For Turfdom's Fans

By Davis J. Walsh.

LOUISVILLE, May 16.—As Mecca is the objective of the focal point of the great American pilgrimage to the shrine of the thoroughbred Shank, its disciples prostrated on prayer rugs that bore a singular resemblance to a five dollar mutuel ticket on a possible winner of the $50,000 Kentucky derby, Louisville today was in the midst of its annual frenzy, with 75,000 visitors gorging its highways and the music of approaching hoofbeats tingling in its civic ear.

There is only one Kentucky derby and it will be held late this afternoon at Churchill Downs.

The sky was cloudy early in the day, and if it makes good its threat, the entire aspect of the fifty first running of the turf's three year old classic will be changed. The official weather forecast was for showers.

Quatrain, of the Frederick Johnson string, opened a staunch favorite on the supposition that the track would be as dry as a mouthful of Alkali dust. But, if they liked him on a dry track, their regard would be almost reverential in the mud. They would back him right off the horizon.

Hope ran high, however, that the early threat of rain would not become a fulfillment. The disciples were ready to worship at the shrine, but they had no fancy for doing it in the mud. This not only would be unpleasant for man and beast, but would ruin what competition such as Captain Hal and other fancied starters might care to offer.

The Captain cannot run in the mud and lost caste, any how, the belief having become general that he left his on the track some days ago when he went the full Derby distance of a mile and a quarter in 2:05 1-5.

Much doubt existed today as to whether he ever was a distance horse at any time.

Similarly a suspicion seemed to have gained ground that Quatrain lacked something of the class demanded of a Derby winner. The experts contended that he never had beaten a real running horse. But the dear public was with him almost to a man, nevertheless.

Backbone and Chantey were better horses, it was said. They ran disappointing races in the Preakness, but the boys claim this was all wrong and should be stopped. No doubt about it, the Whitney pair, coupled with Reminder and The Bat, will get strong play.

One factor, however, seemed to have been overlooked. The Derby field probably will number as many as 20 after the trainers get the scratches out of their systems, and Chantey is right in the middle. His position couldn't be worse, and it is a matter of Derby record that a horse off badly seldom gets up in the money. Captain Hal drew the position next to Chantey, yet has the advantage of being a rapid starter.

But the Cardinal, one place removed, may find himself in the same pocket with Chantey.

Backbone and Almadel drew excellent positions on the outside, and so did Quatrain. The latter may be a reluctant post horse, but he faces the probability of running his race without interference.

It was on account of his favorable position that Flying Ebony came to be fancied, although the fact that Earl Sande was to ride him, no doubt, influenced this sentiment in part. The Cochrane netry, always fast from the mark, was placed between a pair of slow ones in Chief Uncas and Elector, and, barring the unforeseen, seemed due to get away running. Singlefoot, one of the dark horses, also was favorably situated.

Macks Trim Tigers.

DETROIT, May 16.—Philadelphia knocked Leonard out of the box in the sixth inning, scoring six runs and taking the lead from the Tigers to win, 8 to 7. Groves, costly Philadelphia pitcher, hurled the last four innings and held the Tigers without a hit.

TROTTERS TRIM MOTORS, 9 TO 5

Barr Permits Seven Hits and Has Perfect Day at Bat.

Manning's wildness enabled Trotters to win from the Nash Motors at Wellsville in a City Industrial league contest on Friday evening, 9 to 5.

Barr allowed seven hits and had a perfect day at the bat. Vance finally succeeded Manning. The score:

SHOT-PUT MARK IS RULED OUT

Hum, of Lisbon, who in 1912, put the 12-pound shot a distance of 43 feet 11 inches, still holds the official Columbiana County Track and Field association record for that particular event.

The toss of 44 feet and 9 inches, made by Banks, of Wellsville, a week ago today at Lisbon, has been ruled off the books by D. M. Williams, of Girard high, the official meet referee, according to announcement by Superintendent W. H. Geiger, of Lisbon, head of the county association.

According to Superintendent Geiger, Referee Williams declared the shot used during this event last Saturday was three-fourths of a pound light and therefore not up to specifications.

As a result, there is no new record, although points made by the athletes who placed in the event will stand, inasmuch as practically all of the contestants used the questionable iron ball.

According to announcement by Superintendent Geiger, an investigation of the affair will be instituted by the County Schoolmasters' club at its next meeting.

The Phillies advanced to the dizzy heights of third place by handing the Cubs an 8 to 4 defeat.

SCHOLASTICS DOWN NEWELL

Locals Bunch Hits in Fourth Frame for Four Runs.

The East Liverpool Scholastics hung up another victory yesterday afternoon on Patterson field when they trimmed the Newell high school nine, 6 to 3.

Mackall, Scholastic twirler, had an edge on Watson, of the visitors, during the battle. Mackall pitched shutout ball for the first six innings. The visitors, however, got to his offerings in the seventh and last inning. Watson was touched up hard in the fifth frame. However, he registered 10 strikeouts.

The locals scored in the first frame when Pusey clouted the ball for three sacks and reached home on a passed ball. They scored again in the second on McKee's home run drive. In the fifth four more runners crossed the plate. Both McConville and English hit safely and executed a double steal as Schneidmiller fanned. Both rambled home on McKee's double to right and McKee made the circuit on Rariden's erratic throw. Kinsey lined over short and went to second on a wild pitch. Maley's infield hit advanced him to third and a passed ball sent him around.

Newell's runs were recorded in the final frame. Watson tripled, Dittimer hit to Kinsey at third and Kinsey played for Watson, going to the plate. The play was bobbled and Watson counted, Dittimer going to second. Rariden singled and Dittimer tallied on English's wild peg to first. Mills singled, scoring Rariden.

PHILADELPHIA, May 16.—Philadelphia got the edge on the series with the Chicago by finishing on the losing end of an 8 to 4 count. Blake and Jacobs were both found for hits at opportune times.

Relief Hurler Knight stopped the Cubs when they found Betts weakening. Jimmy Wilson had a home run and a perfect day at bat. Grimm also hit each time up.

SCHOOL TROPHY IS RECOVERED

Cup, Stolen Last Saturday, Found Beneath Dance Hall.

The Columbiana County Track and Field association trophy cup, stolen from the office at the fairground last Saturday afternoon while the twenty-second annual meet was under way, has been recovered. It is now in the possession of Salem high school, winner of the meet.

Fairground workmen found the cup concealed beneath a large can under the dance pavilion at the frairground. It had not been marred.

When the cup was taken from the office Saturday, the wooden base was left behind and this was taken to Salem at the time. Yesterday the cup was turned over to O. M. Rohrabaugh, of Salem high school, by Superintendent W. H. Geiger, of Lisbon, president of the association.

However, the mystery which surrounds the transfer of the cup from the office to its hiding place, remains unsolved.

Copyright, 1925, King Features Syndicate, Inc.

A WORD FOR BEGINNERS.

The best way to solve a cross-word puzzle is to run quickly over the list of horizontal and vertical synonyms and compare them to the spaces in the puzzle extending crosswise or downward from the number of the synonym. Some word which will just fit in the number of space available will quickly occur to you in some instances, giving you a foundation from which to solve the more difficult words. The words must interlock perfectly.

A WORD FOR BEGINNERS.

The best way to solve a cross-word puzzle is to run quickly over the list of horizontal and vertical synonyms and compare them to the spaces in the puzzle extending crosswise or downward from the number of the synonym. Some word which will just fit in the number of space available will quickly occur to you in some instances, giving you a foundation from which to solve the more difficult words. The words must interlock perfectly.

MINE WORKERS SCORE VICTORIES

Federal Jurist Hands Down Decision in Injunction Case.

WHEELING, W. Va., May 16.—United Mine Workers fighting injunction proceedings in federal court here today, brought by the West Virginia-Pittsburgh Coal company, who allege contempt against a score of officials and members of the organization, won their second victory today. Judge W. E. Baker handed down an opinion holding that he found no error, as contended by counsel for the operators, in his ruling of Friday, May 8, in which he held that he was bound by the mandate of the superior court, the court of appeals at Richmond, Va., and would again so hold that the permanent injunction granted the West Virginia - Pittsburgh Coal company must be modified as the mandate of the Richmond court directed to permit of "peaceful persuasion," and similar activities upon the part of the miners.

Judge Baker ruled that he found no error in his former decision May 8, in which he held that he was bound by the mandate of the court of appeals sitting at Richmond. He held that the permanent injunction granted years ago against the unionization activities of the United Mine Workers must be modified to permit "peaceful persuasion," and other similar activities on the part of the miners.

The decision of the court was construed as extremely favorable to the striking miners. It was admitted by their counsel during argument that had Judge Baker ruled otherwise it would have ended the strike in the coal fields, production has been greatly curtailed as a result of the strike called a month ago.

BANK RECEIVER IS APPOINTED

With the announcement of the appointment of Benjamin Rosenbloom, of Pittsburgh as receiver depositors of the Burgettstown National bank at Burgettstown, became aware that the affairs of the bank were in such shape that it probably will never open it's doors for business again. Receiver Rosenbloom will take charge of the bank next Monday and after the exact status of the affairs of the bank has been determined, will commence liquidation.

The bank is one of three controlled by John A. Ball, of Carnegie, which closed their doors recently, the other two being located at Carnegie. He was president of the Burgettstown bank until recently.

MILLMAN MEETS WITH ACCIDENT

William Lindsay, 37 years old, Litton street, employed as a shearman in the American Sheet and Tin Plate company plant here, had four fingers of his right hand cut off in the machine he was operating while at work early this morning. Drs. J. L. Pyle nad G. E. Lewis rendered medical attention after he had been given first aid treatment in the mill hospital.

FEDERAL JUDGES HEAR RATE CASE

Three federal judges sat yesterday at Charleston as a statutory court to determine questions arising on the plea of the United Fuel Gas Company to have a recent ruling of the West Virginia Public Service Commission set aside as violative of the United States Constitution, in that it is claimed to be confiscatory. The judge of the southern district of West Virginia last week refused to give a decision in the matter and announced that he would sit with two other jurists. The judges on the bench are Rose, of Baltimore, McDowell, of Lynchburg, and McClintic, of Charleston. The gas company seeks to enjoin the commission from interfering with its attempt to increase rates on natural gas in about fifty communities in the southern part of the state. Three judges are required to act on proceedings to enjoin a state agency such as the public service commission.

SECOND CAPITOL UNIT IS FAVORED

Construction of the second unit of the new state capitol was classed yesterday by the select legislative revenue committee as one of the most urgent building needs of the state government.

Three other items recommended by the administration were tentatively classed as "urgent," carrying appropriations aggregating $1,300,000 for the next two fiscal years. The road maintenance program was not definitely placed in this classification.

The recommendation for an additional building for the hospital for negro insane at Maggie costing $100,000 was approved and placed in class, one together with two hospital buildings at the state tuberculosis sanitarium costing $125,000 and a shop building at the deaf and blind school costing $50,000.

The needs at West Virginia Collegiate Institute were placed in class three and the additional building at the New River State school was placed in the second classification.

The committee tentatively approved the proposed appropriation of $500,000 for each of the next two fiscal years for the state capitol, in addition to the proceeds from the sale of state property here.

IINE WORKERS CORE VICTORIES

ederal Jurist Hands Down Decision in Injunction Case.

WHEELING, W. Va., May 16.—Uni-d Mine Workers fighting injunction oceedings in federal court here to-y, brought by the West Virginia-ttsburgh Coal company, who allege ntempt against a score of officials d members of the organization, won eir second victory today. Judge W. Baker handed down an opinion lding that he found no error, as con-nded by counsel for the operators, his ruling of Friday, May 8, in hich he held that he was bound by e mandate of the superior court, e court of appeals at Richmond, Va., d would again so hold that the per-anent injunction granted the West irginia - Pittsburgh Coal company ust be modified as the mandate of e Richmond court directed to per-it of "peaceful persuasion," and sim-ilar activities upon the part of the miners.

Judge Baker ruled that he found no error in his former decision May 8, in which he held that he was bound by the mandate of the court of appeals sitting at Richmond. He held that the permanent injunction granted years ago against the unionization activities of the United Mine Workers must be modified to permit "peaceful persuasion," and other similar activities on the part of the miners.

The decision of the court was construed as extremely favorable to the striking miners. It was admitted by their counsel during argument that had Judge Baker ruled otherwise it would have ended the strike in the coal fields, production has been greatly curtailed as a result of the strike called a month ago.

Questions for Dean Inge.
Sam's 7 Best Customers.
Nature in No Hurry.
Money Goes to Money.

By ARTHUR BRISBANE.

(The opinions expressed in this column are strictly those of Mr. Brisbane and not necessarily in consonance with the policies of The Review-Tribune).

In connection with religious hatreds and stupidities, did you notice the farewell remarks of the Very Rev. Inge, dean of St. Paul's, London, as he sailed for home?

He said to the reporters, and all the newspapers print his words, "I would advise them, meaning the Jews, to rebuild the Temple of Solomon here in New York, where they have the largest number of Jews—and plenty of Gentiles to fleece."

The reverend gentleman also remarked that he would be glad to get back to his cellar, meaning his supply of alcoholic fluids.

It isn't worth while to tell Dean Inge what the Jews have done to build up this country, or how much England owes to the intelligence of Cromwell, who allowed the Jews to come into England and build up English prosperity, while Spain and Portugal went down and stayed down, because superstitious brutality drove the Jews out.

But, you might ask the dean, well paid by the Christian church, these questions:

How do you make your living? Do you suppose there would be any such thing as a dean of St. Paul's Christian cathedral, if there hadn't been any Jews

Where do you think Christianity started?

What was the nationality of the Apostles and of the mother of Christ?

And, to these questions you might add this:

Providence, in sending the religion in which you believe, or rather in which you don't believe, to this earth, had its pick of the whole globe. Why did it pick out the land inhabited by Jews?

Perhaps Dean Inge thinks Providence knows less than the dean of St. Paul's.

Never quarrel with your customers, especially your best customers, and don't get mixed up in anything that might lead to a quarrel.

The United States chamber of commerce informs you that Uncle Sam has seven big outstanding customers. They bought from the United States in 1924, two thousand million dollars worth of products.

The wise merchant keeps on good terms with customers, treats them all fairly and alike, avoids anything that might cause friction.

Therefore, when Uncle Sam is invited to enter into a league of nations, he should reply:

"No, thank you, gentlemen. I stay on my side of the ocean, doing business politely and efficiently over my counter. I shall not mix up in anything that might cause unpleasant irritation. I am not going to help England decide against France, Japan against China, or Germany against Italy. You are my good customers. I shall continue to attend to my business, and I shall do it in the old American way."

You will observe that in spite of his much criticised and wholly sound Washington plan of minding his own business, old Uncle Sam is not losing trade.

For the month of April he sold to other countries more goods by $400,000,000 worth than in any April during the last five years. And the trade balance for April was in Uncle Sam's favor by $51,000,000. When you are doing well don't let critics worry you. Sometimes their criticism is not entirely unselfish.

This is the only country that has any supply of helium gas worth while. We get it after it has leaked up through the earth and in pools of natural gas.

According to Dr. Elind, chief of the bureau of mines, it takes 20,000,000 years for helium to leak from minerals and rocks and come within our reach.

Many things happen in science that couldn't happen if this earth were only 6,000 years old, as was once believed. It took millions of years for evolution to change a creature as big as a fox(with seven toes, into the horse of today.

It takes 20,000,000 years for helium gas to become available. It will take

Estimate Damage in Midnight Blast at $30,000.

RUINS BUILDING

Hint Plotters Planned to Kill Fred Adsett, Jeweler.

Damage estimated as high as $30,000 was caused by a dynamite explosion, which wrecked a two-story brick building, occupied by the Fred Adsett jewelry store, and jarred an adjoining two-story structure, occupied by the Charles A. Hart grocery store, Market street, Minerva, at 11:15 o'clock last night.

The blast is believed to have been part of a plot against the life of Adsett, owner of the jewelry store, who until three weeks ago had been sleeping at night in the building.

Chief of Police William Telford, with whom officials of Columbiana, Stark and Carroll counties are cooperating in an investigation of the plot, declined to discuss motives prompting the outrage.

Seek Two Men in Auto.

Adsett, whose wife is dead, spent last night at the home of a daughter.

The dynamite, set off under a rear corner of the Adsett store, destroyed the two-story building, which is owned by Hart, the grocer.

Adsett's stock of jewelry and other merchandise as well as a piano, victrola and other furniture, was badly damaged. The damage to the Hart grocery store, in the adjoining building, was slight.

Two men, who were traveling in an automobile, were seen near the Adsett store shortly before the explosion.

Sheriff Wright Notified.

Sheriff George Wright and Deputy Sheriff Lawrence Kindsvatter, of Lisbon, notified of the outrage shortly after it occurred, sped in an automobile to Minerva in an effort to overtake the plotters should they attempt to flee toward Columbiana county.

The sheriffs of Stark and Carroll counties also reached Minerva shortly after the explosion.

All officials were reticent today in discussing the various angles of the suspected plot.

100 Boys Attend Y. M. Camp Reunion; Plan Annual Outing

Approximately 100 boys attended the camp reunion, conducted under the auspices of the Boys' Work department of the Y. M. C. A., Friday evening. The affair was for all youths, who attended the Y camps last year and those who expect to enroll this year.

Camp songs were given by the boys. George Ganas won the prize for the best campfire story, while Howard Lindell's group carried off honors for the best campfire stunt. Selections were featured by the Boys' Marine band. Refreshments were served.

The Y. M. C. A. camp, known as "Camp Pine Ridge" located in Madison township along Beaver Creek and close to the Y. & O. railroad and the Lincoln highway, will open June 23. The camping season has been divided into six periods of 10 days each this year.

$20,325 Damages Asked for Injuries In Auto Accident

Orwin G. Smith, of this city, through his counsel, Cochran & Crawford, has filed a suit for $20,325 against the Pete Milliron Transfer & Storage company, of Second street, as the result of an automobile collision several weeks ago.

Smith, in his petition, declares that while traveling along the Lincoln highway near the Horn switch, his car was struck by a truck owned by the defendant and driven by one of his employes. His car was badly damaged and he received permanent injuries, the plaintiff alleges.

LIMA, May 16.—Lieutenant Colonel Jack Horner, 30, former assistant adjutant general of Ohio, was perhaps fatally injured when he was crushed beneath the wheels of a five-ton concrete mixer late Friday afternoon.

Horner was pulling the heavy tractor mixer with another tractor when the steering wheel broke, throwing him beneath the wheels of the concrete machine. He was removed in an unconscious condition to a hospital. Attending physicians hold little hope for his recovery.

NEW MOVE MADE BY PROSECUTOR

Woman's Second Confession is Said to Have Implicated Prisoner in Arsenic Plot Against Family.

MEDINA, O., May 16—After a grilling that continued throughout the night Walter Johns, of Cleveland, was placed under arrest here today, on a charge of suspicion, in connection with the arsenic poisoning of three persons. Mrs. Martha Wise, 40, was sentenced to a life term in the Marysvile women's prison Wednesday in connection with the crime.

Seventeen Were Poisoned

The victims were Mrs. Wise's mother, Mrs. Sophia Hasel; her aunt, Mrs. Fred Gienke, Sr., and her uncle, Fred Gienke, S. Fourteen other members of their families, all near relatives of Mrs. Wise were also poisoned, but recovered, although two are crippled permanently.

Prior to her trial, Mrs. Wise made a confession, in which she said that the "devil" prompted her to purchase arsenic and place it in her relatives' drinking watr.

Johns' arres followed a further alleged confession of the woman, made yesterday, in which she is reported to have told posecutor Joseph Seymour that it wa Johns who prompted her to kill her mother, when the latter objected to the contemplated marriage of the Hardscrabble widow and the Cleveland man, because of differing religious beliefs.

Conspiracy Charge Expected

The alleged confession of the woman is reported to have implicated

U. S. HITS PLAN FOR LEAGUE TO CONTROL ARMS

Congressman Burton Warns Office Must be Independent.

AMERICAN STAND

Approve Proposal for Appointment of Committee.

GENEVA, May 16.—Congressman Burton, head of the American delegation to the arms conference, warned the conference today that if its central office for publication of statistics on arm commerce is not separated from control by the League of Nations, it will be impossible to depend upon American cooperation.

"It is very difficult," Burton told the conference, "for the United States to cooperate with a central office which has been created by the league and which will be comprised in the league's general organization."

"The United States," Burton continued, "would 'view with regret' if the conference draws up an agreement in such form as would prevent the United States accepting it without reservations.

"I believe it is possible to agree on a text which all can sign. For this purpose, I move that a committee be appointed before which the Americans will explain their viewpoint."

Sapnish Delegate Opposes.

Adopting Burton's proposal, the conference appointed a committee of eight, comprising the United States, Norway, France, Great Britain, Italy, Belgium, Germany and Spain.

The Spanish delegate, Palakios, opposing a separation of the arms body from the league, said:

"The United States cannot deny that the League of Nations exists. I am unable to understand why the United States can not have confidence in a league council elected by 55 nations.

"I promise as a compromise that the United States have a representative vote with the league council for the purpose of organizing a central office."

2 DIE, 3 HURT IN AUTO PLUNGE

POPLAR BLUFFS, Mo., May 16.—Leslie Solars, 19, star high school athlete, and his sweetheart, Bessie Warren, 18, of Williamsville, were killed, and three young students seriously hurt when the roadster in which they were returning from a farewell class party, plunged over a 50-foot cliff, near here, during the night, it was learned today when searching parties came upon the wreckage.

Young Solars and Miss Warren had planned to marry shortly, friends said.

LABOR CHIEF AND DONAHEY WILL ATTEND POTTER PICNIC

DUFFY INVITED

Outing Will be Held at Myers Lake on June 6.

Governor A. V. Donahey, Columbus; William Green, Coshocton, president of the American Federation of Labor and possibly T. J. Duffy, chairman of the Ohio Industrial commission and former president of the National Brotherhood of Operative Potters, will attend the first annual potters' reunion and picnic, which will be held at Myers Lake, Canton, on Saturday June 6.

The picnic committee announced today receipt of assurances from Mr. Green that he will be present at the outing. "I have cancelled some other arrangements, tentatively made, in order that I might have the pleasure and opportunity of attending the reunion and picnic of the National Brotherhood of Operative Potters," Mr. Green wrote.

Fresh assurances have also come from Columbus that Governor Donahey will be present, if no extraordinary emergencies arise. T. J. Duffy, who is the only living ex-president of the brotherhood, has also been invited to attend the affair and to have a part in the speakers' program.

Manufacturers Invited.

The day will be a holiday throughout the pottery industry. The visitors will come from East Liverpool, East Palestine, New Castle, Wellsville, Salineville, Salem, Alliance, Sebring, Beaver Falls, Steubenville, Wheeling, Canonsburg, Kittanning, Minerva, Scio, Coshocton and other pottery centers.

All manufacturing potters, their managers, foreman and other department heads have been asked to attend the picnic, the invitation having been extended through Charles F. Goodwin, secertary-treasurer of the United States Potters' association.

At least one special train will be run from the East Liverpool district, the train leaving here about 8 a. m., shortly before the 8:10 train from

Barth Will Attend U. S. C. of C. Meeting In Nation's Capital

H. B. Barth, secretary of the Chamber of Commerce, will leave Sunday evening for Washington, where he will attend the 13th annual meeting of the United States Chamber of Commerce, which opens Tuesday. The convention will be held in the new National Chamber of Commerce building.

Neither W. E. Wells nor J. M. Manor, councillor and vice-councillor, respectively, of the organization, will attend the meeting. Barth was elected alternate. The convention will adjourn Friday.

STOLEN BONDS ARE IDENTIFIED

TOLEDO, May 16.—The $14,500 worth of registered Liberty bonds unearthed in an old tin can by Charles Lewis, section hand, while working on the right of way of the Toledo, Angola & Western railroad, near Sylvania, yesterday, were today identified as part of the loot of the robbery of the Old Fort Banking company at Old Port, O., August 19, 1920.

Bell Telephone Co. Officials Here.

C. D. Fulsom, Akron, division auditor, and C. P. Bradford, Akron, division commercial superintendent of the Bell Telephone company, visited at the East Liverpool office Thursday.

Novelist Wells Sidesteps Fight Over Evolution

LONDON, May 16.—H. G. Wells, author and writer on the advance of civilization and the theory of evolution, will not take part in the controversy brought about in Tennessee by the alleged violation of the state anti-evolution law by Prof. J. T. Scopes, Wells said today.

Wells had been invited by Prof. John R. Neal to defend Scopes by debating the subject of evolution with William J. Bryan.

"I know nothing about this case," said Wells today. "I am not interested. I don't see why I should be asked to defend. I guess there is a mistake. They have probably asked a lawyer named Wells to defend, not the Novelist Wells."

PLOT TO KILL SERVIAN KING IS FRUSTRATED

Plan to Blow Up Belgrade Palace Discovered.

JAIL RADICALS

Police Raid Secret Meeting Place of Plotters.

LONDON, May 16.—A plot to murder King Alexander of Servia and his ministers has been discovered, according to a Central News despatch from Belgrade today.

The plotters planned to blow up the royal palace, both houses of parliament, and other government offices, according to the dispatch.

The plot was discovered when police raided a secret meeting place of the plotters.

Several communists who recently arrived in Belgrade have been arrested.

Police trailed the plotters to carefully hidden headquarters in a quiet suburb, the despatches said, and surprised them pouring over maps and discussing plans for city wide destruction.

NEW YORK, May 16.—The world's richest girl and her boyhood sweetheart sailed today for their European honeymoon in the cheapest cabin with bath afforded by the liner Paris.

Mr. and Mrs. David Merriwether Milton, nee Abby Rockefeller, after two days at the Hotel Pennsylvania, while most of their friends imagined they were at the Rockefeller estate at Tarrytown, went aboard quietly with the bride's parents an hour before the great ship slipped down the stream.

They occupied room No. 52, port side, forward, on "D" deck. It cost them $908. Cabins de luxe at several times that figure were available, but refused on the ground that they were "too expensive."

Only Mr. and Mrs. John D. Rockefeller, Jr., Abby's parents, and Ivy Lee, press agent for the Rockefeller family, were in the party to wish the heiress and the young attorney godspeed on their honeymoon.

W. C. T. U. President Opens Ohio Attack On "Vile" Literature

COLUMBUS, May 16.—A campaign against sales at news stands of "vile" literature, has been opened by Mrs. Florence D. Richard, president of the Ohio W. C. T. U., it was revealed here today. Aid has been asked of Attorney General Crabbe and he will act sometime next week, it was said at the attorney general's office. What line of attack will be followed was not indicated.

Dr. Frank Fowler's Father Seriously Ill in Scio Home

Dr. Frank G. Fowler, pastor of the First Methodist Episcopal church, was called to Scio, Friday evening, by the serious illness of his father, Benjamin B. Fowler. The elder Mr. Fowler is 90 years old.

SEAMEN INJURED IN SHIP BLAST

WASHINGTON, May 16.—A number of seamen were injured this morning in an explosion and fire aboard the Italian steamer Adige at Hampton Roads, according to a report to the navy department.

JURY ACQUITS LONGO; STRADA GIVEN LIBERTY BY PROSECUTOR

QUICK VERDICT

Alibi is Established in Wellsville Shooting Trial.

Fred Longo and Dominick Strada, both of Canton, indicted for first degree murder in the death of Mrs. Vincenzio Desmonia, who was shot down when she opened the door of her home in Broadway, Wellsville, on Feb. 22, last, in response to a knock, were freed today.

Strada Indictment Nolled.

Following an hour's deliberation, during which two ballots were taken, each recording a like result, the jury in common pleas court, Lisbon, yesterday afternoon, returned a verdict of not guilty in the trial of Longo.

Immediately upon announcement of the acquittal of Longo, Prosecutor Robert M. Brookes nolled the indictment against Strada, who was a prisoner in the county jail awaiting trial in connection with the Desmonia killing.

Attorneys James E. O'Grady of Wellsville and W. B. Moore of Lisbon, who defended Longo, set up an alibi. By witnesses they showed that Longo and Strada were eating supper in the dining room of the home of Michael Sabbato, father of Longo's fiancee, Margaret Sabbato, when they heard the shots which fatally wounded Mrs. Desmonia.

TWO POPPY DAY DRIVES OPEN

School Children and Others Sell Red Blossoms.

Two separate Poppy Day sales were being conducted in East Liverpool today—one by the American Legion and G. A. R. jointly and the other by the Veterans of Foreign Wars.

"Buy a Poppy" was the plea of scores of school children and women workers who were stationed on the street corners, at banks and at the doors of the principal business houses.

Mrs. George Obney is chairman of the Legion-G. A. R. campaign and is maintaining headquarters in the lobby of the Little building in the Diamond. Mrs. Laura Hughes is in charge of the committee directing the campaign sponsored by the Veterans of Foreign Wars.

While the poppy sale was intended to be a one-day affair, announcement was made today that the solicitation would likely be continued by both organizations throughout next week.

Funds collected by the Legion-G. A. R. workers will be used in defraying the cost of the Memorial Day observance and relief work. Collections by the Veterans of Foreign Wars are for the relief of disabled veterans.

Automobile Club Directors Plan Lisbon Meeting

A meeting of the board of directors of the Columbiana County Motor club will be held in the office of H. C. Armstrong, Lisbon, Monday evening. Further consideration will be given the safety campaign launched recently in the county schools. The board has also recommended that the brake and headlight test, required of East Liverpool motorists last winter, be enforced throughout the county by the sheriff and his deputies.

MARTIN FUNERAL HERE MONDAY

Funeral services for George H. Martin, 73 years old, former East Liverpool resident, who died Monday in Denver, Col.; will be held at 2 o'clock Monday afternoon in the Sturgis funeral home, West Fifth street. Rev. D. W. MacLeod, pastor of the First Presbyterian church, in charge. Burial will be made in Riverview cemetery.

The body, accompanied by his nephew, George C. Thompson, will arrive in Salem tomorrow morning at 10:30.

Mrs. Jack Dempsey Improving.

LONDON, May 16.—The condition of Mrs. Jack Dempsey was said by physicians today to be improved. She was reported to have burst a blood vessel due to sea sickness while crossing from New York.

CHAMBER OF COMMERCE INQUIRY EXPOSES CLEVER SCHEME IN WHICH BUSINESS WOMAN HERE IS SWINDLED OUT OF $35

Mrs. Jane V. Imbrie Victim of Fleecers, Investigation by National Vigilance Committee Reveals.

Through the efforts of the Chamber of Commerce, cooperating with the National Vigilance committee, a fraudulent scheme, in which a local business woman was swindled out of $35, has just been exposed, it developed today.

About two months ago a stranger, said to be one, H. C. Hassler, called upon Mrs. Jane V. Imbrie, who conducts a ladies' clothing and millinery establishment in Pennsylvania avenue, and obtained a contract for merchandise for which she paid $35 in advance. The stranger claimed to be representing the National Ladies' Tailoring company, of Chicago.

When Mrs. Imbrie failed to receive word regarding the goods, she became suspicious and asked the Chamber of Commerce to investigate the firm. H. B. Barth, secretary, wrote the Vigilance committee's office at Chicago, and recently was advised that no such a firm existed there, so far as the committee was able to learn.

Under date of May 13 the Vigilance committee sends out a circular letter warning against the operations of Hassler, who, it is believed, has been working elsewhere. Hassler is described to be of fair complexion, about 45 years of age and "makes a very presentable appearance."

Local business people are warned against dealing with strangers who fail to produce the proper credentials. The National Vigilance committee, through its connections with the Chamber of Commerce, stands ready to investigate any proposition where there is doubt as to its official status.

Other recent bulletins from the Vigilance committee deal with the National Advertisers' Syndicate and Manufacturers' Publicity service in a lottery scheme; Edward Provongo and Earl Flansburg, operators of an alleged fake subscription scheme; American Show Card school in so-called "work at home" scheme; William Gingsick and his alleged connections with Carson Shoe company, and the Mexico Land company, in colonization scheme.

No Loss of Life as City Emerges From Danger.

CALL FOR FUNDS

Fear For Safety of Farmers Living on Islands.

DAWSON, Yukon, May 16.—Dawson today emerged from the worst flood in its history.

Several houses were carried away, heavy property damage was done by the flood waters, but no loss of life was reported.

City police today in a launch were making an effort to reach the islands in the Yukon river, fearing for the safety of farmers living on the islands.

For a time the flood threatened to wipe out the city. But the river dropped four feet during the night. The business district escaped damage.

Sudden Thaw Blamed.

The flood was caused by the cold spring weather followed by a sudden thaw. All along the Yukon valley, torrents of water poured from the tributaries.

Several houses were carried away bodily on the outskirts of Dawson.

The government radio station was out of commission for 12 hours when the flood was at its height.

Prominent citizens today wired the authorities at Ottawa asking that an appropriation of $50,000 be sent to repair the damage.

GENERAL MILES DIES SUDDENLY

Veteran Military Hero Drops Dead at Circus.

WASHINGTON, May 16.—While the whole army mourned, arrangements were being completed today for the funeral of General Nelson A. Miles, one of America's outstanding military heroes, who died suddenly yesterday while attending a circus.

Mrs. Cecelia Raber, the general's daughter, was to arrive this morning from New York, while his son, Major Sherman Miles, is enroute to the United States from Constantinople on the Leviathan.

Having served in nearly every rank which the army knows—from private soldier to commander of all the nation's forces—General Miles will be buried, probably in Arlington National cemetery, with full military honors.

our sun 300,000,000 more years to cool off.

Nature is in no hurry.

Money goes to money ,and if you understand business you can easily get capital to develop your enterprise. The other day, for instance, Edward L. Doheny sold his Mexican oil properties to a branch of the Standard Oil. He now organizes a new company, of a million shares, "no par value," to develop properties in the west.

Does the new company have to start out and work up from the bottom?

Hardly.

Mr. Doheny told his friends that he would start operations with a cash capital of $85,000,000 and all of this is "new money," money from the east brought in to develop the west.

"There's gold in them mountains," the old prospector used to say. There is, if you know where to find it. But, there a good deal more gold in those oil wells, if you know how to locate them. And, apparently Mr. Doheny does know.

Governor McLean of North Carolina, means to make the radio 100 per cent useful. His plan, in connection with a high power radio station, operated by the state, is to send out to all school houses such news as rural communities, their farmers, business men, etc., especially want. Information concerning the state will be emphasized.

The state's engineers and the engineering faculty of the North Carolina State college are working on the problem. This should interest the governors of other states. To use new inventions promptly, using public power and money in the work, is to hurry on the work of civilization. Take away the work of the last 100 years, and where would the world be?

ARREST 10 MEN FOR PICKETING

GRANT TOWN, W. Va., May 16.—Ten striking miners were arrested by sheriffs deputies here today for picketing an open shop mine.

Ulysses A. Knapp, attorney for the United Mine Workers, accused of directing the picketing, was one of those taken into custody. A Baltimore newspaperman, whose identity was not revealed, also was arrested.

All were released later in $500 bond.

Graduates to Present Picture of Monroe Patterson to School

Memory of Athletic Field Donor Will be Honored at Recognition Exercises in High School on Thursday.

Memory of the late Monroe Patterson, donor of an athletic field to East Liverpool public school children, will be honored in connection with the recognition exercises to be held in the high school auditorium at 1:30 o'clock next Thursday afternoon.

A life size portrait of Mr. Patterson, beautifully framed, will be presented to the high school by the graduating class. The presentation speech will probably be made by Kenneth Pyles, president of the class. The picture will be hung in a conspicuous place, probably in the corridor of the main floor.

Students, who earned qualifying grades in high school work, members of the football, basketball and track teams, band, orchestra and other school attractions will be honored at the recognition exercises. The program is being arranged by Miss Florence Updegraff, high school principal.

The exercises will be open to the public, particularly parents of high school students.

OHIOAN FACES DEATH CHAIR

Cleveland Man is Convicted of Killing Wife.

CLEVELAND, May 16. — Frank Liska must die in the electric chair August 24. A verdict of guilty of first degree murder without a mercy recommendation was returned last night, after the jury had deliberated for 53 hours. One juror, a man, had held out against the death chair throughout the jury's many hours of balloting.

Liska, who has been in the United States for 16 years but speaks no English, was overcome when one of his lawyers, John J. Babka, interpreted the verdict. He sagged to his knees and Judge Carl V. Weygandt gave him permission to sit during the formalities which marked the end of the trial.

Mrs. Liska's charred body was found in a blazing chicken coop last winter. She had been strangled. Later police wrung a confession from her husband that he had aided her to die.

During the trial defense attorneys attempted to prove that the confession was obtained by coercion, and should not be admitted in evidence. They were overruled.

A motion for a new trial will be made at once.

Bellaire Slayer Electrocuted.

COLUMBUS, May 16.—The body of Fred Ward, 30, of Bellaire, who was put to death in the electric chair at Ohio state penitentiary early today for slaying, Sept. 2 of Janetta Panella, 16, in Belmont county, was to be shipped today to Bellaire for burial. Ward's two sisters, Mrs. Freda Jarrett, Warwood, W. Va., and Mrs. Howard Barkus of Steubenville, who failed to obtain a last-minute reprieve, will accompany the body.

REPORTS FROM STOCK MARKET

NEW YORK, May 16.—High priced industrials stocks, specialties and public utility stocks continued their forward price move in the short session of the market today. The professionals dominated the speculative market, and continued to push up prices of their favorite stocks. Bearish traders were brushed aside in the forward sweep of prices in utility and specialty stocks with strong pool backing.

Universal Pipe common and preferred sold about three points higher. American Waterworks jumped three points to a new high at 58¾, while the movements in Certainteed Products, Montana Power, Glidden, Air Reduction, etc., carried prices to the highest level on the recovery.

United States Steel pushed vigorously upward to 117¼ on heavy trading. American Can reached a new high record at 191½, as also did Mack Trucks, which sold at 166½, completing a gain of 11 points since Monday.

Railroad stocks were featureless, with the exception of Ann Arbor preferred, which was in demand on rumors that some of the larger railroad systems were buying for control of this line. Frisco common and Rock Island sold higher. Oil stocks again retired to the inactive list. Independent Steel shares followed the advance in United States Steel with Bethlehem and Gulf States in the most active position. International Paper was also strong and active.

NEED $38,000 TO FINISH DAM

City Council Will be Asked to Approve Bond Issue.

Probably at its next regular meeting on Tuesday evening, May 19, city council will be asked to pass an ordinance to sell $38,000 worth of bonds to pay for the completion of the city's new water system.

It is anticipated by city officials that the bond issue will be approved by the solons, inasmuch as the funds will be used only for finishing the regular contract work, and are not sought for the purpose of any additions to the system.

The finishing touches to the municipal system cannot be applied, it is understood, unless additional funds are forthcoming.

Advance warning that the city would have to provide funds over and above the original bond issue, with which to complete the system, was given councilmen months ago by W. J. Sherman, of the Sherman Engineering company, Toledo, when he was called before the municipal legislative body to describe the work of the system.

At that time, Mr. Sherman estimated that at least $25,000 would be required to complete the construction of the dam. He pointed out at the time where the funds that had already been provided, were going.

YOUNG PEOPLE HOLD MEET HERE

With delegates in attendance from practically every church in the presbytery, the Young People's Christian Union of the First United Presbyterian church, Steubenville presbytery, held its annual spring meeting yesterday afternoon and evening in the local church.

Dinner was served by the Wellsville society at 6 o'clock, followed by a program which included as the chief address of the evening, a talk by Benjamin H. McGrew, of Pittsburgh, national treasurer of the young people's organization. His subject was, "Our Y. P. C. U.—To Know, To Do and To Love Its Work."

Present officers were re-named for the ensuing term at the business session and election following the program. Stewart Parker, of this city, was re-elected prebyterial chairman.

Parker was also named as a delegate to the national convention which will be held during the latter part of July at Silver Bay, New York state.

The next meeting of the presbytery organization was scheduled for the First United Presbyterian church in East Liverpool during the second week of September.

AWAIT SALE OF STREET BONDS

Actual construction work on the Lisbon street-Wells avenue paving project will be started immediately after the sale of $76,000 worth of bonds, which will provide funds for financing the job, it was announced today.

G. R. Patterson, of this city, who holds the contract for the paving work on both streets, has completed his other contracts and is awaiting the word to go.

The bonds will be sold on May 19, and work will be started as soon as possible after that date.

Contractor Patterson will be unable to move his equipment to the site until the money for the work is in the bank.

According to city officials, several bids have already been received for the bonds, days in advance of the time required.

HIGH STUDENTS GIVE PROGRAM

Several hundred persons, including many parents and other citizens, attended the program and demonstrations given last evening in the high school by students, as the chief feature of the annual visitation week observance.

The first part of the program was enacted in the auditorium. Several selections were given by the high school orchestra, a cornet solo by Tony Riville and a piano solo by Ina Daw.

The boys' and girls' physical education classes gave drills in the school gymnasium following the auditorium program. In addition there were interesting displays of domestic science and wood-working exhibits.

Gloria Swanson and Warwick Ward in a scene from the Paramount Picture 'Madame Sans Gene'

Ceramic theatre, three days starting Monday.

Gloria Swanson's Greatest Picture Comes to Ceramic

In "Madame Sans Gene" Gloria Swanson has probably the most difficult role ever attempted by her during her screen career, but according to all reports she has created for the screen a figure as great as the French actress Rejane did for the stage in the play by Victorien Sardou and Emile Moreau.

The Paramount picture, which was filmed entirely in Paris, comes to the Ceramic theatre on Monday next for a run of three days. The opening of the production finds Gloria as Catherine Hubscher, a French laundress who, through the fortunes of war—the French Revolution—finds herself the possessor of the title of Duchess and a place in the court of Napoleon, for whom she used to steal silk shirts from her wealthy customers, when the Emperor of France was a mere nobody.

Charles de Roche, the only member of the supporting cast with any motion picture experience in this country, has the leading man's role, that of a young sergeant who marries Sans Gene.

"Madame Sans Gene" was written for the screen by Forrest Halsey, who adapted all of Miss Swanson's recent successes.

British Fruit Hawkers Discover New Method Of Booming Business

BIRMINGHAM, Eng., May—Painting the lily may be time wasted; but you can't make fruit dealers believe that dyeing oranges doesn't boom trade.

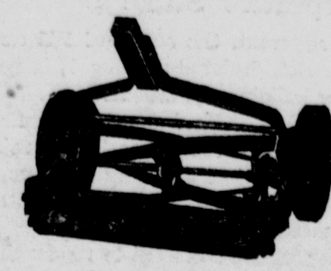

J. F. Liverseege, public analyst, is authority for the statement that fruit hawkers here are developing unripe oranges with a solution of chrysodine in order that they may appear ripe. The dye does not affect the orange nor endanger the consumer.

Leadership - and why

Graham Brothers impressive advance to first position in the 1½ ton truck field, and second in the 1 ton and the 1½ ton fields combined—during the first quarter of 1925—is explained by four vital reasons:

1. Distinct price advantage.
2. Pronounced quality advantage.
3. Dodge Brothers engine.
4. Substantial character of Dodge Brothers dealer organization.

EAST LIVERPOOL — AMERICA'S POTTERY CENTER

SATURDAY, MAY 16, 1925.

Settle Carpenters' Strike

With no signs of peace apparent, the strike of 125 carpenters in the East Liverpool district, declared on May 1; is now in its third week, badly crippling building operations.

The workers walked out when their demand for a flat increase of one dollar a day over the present $10 scale was rejected by the contractors, who pointed out that a $11 a day wage scale would mean a corresponding increase in the cost of construction work which is now at a high mark.

On the other hand, employers have offered to renew the old agreement, but the carpenters are equally adamant in their refusal to accept the proposal.

All other branches of the building trades have renewed 1924 wage contracts with their employers. Included in this list are bricklayers, plasterers, hod carriers, painters, plumbers and electricians.

According to reports, with one exception, the old carpenters' scale is on a par with agreements in effect in other Ohio valley cities. In fact, it is claimed, in some cities a daily wage of less than $10 is paid.

Delay in settlement of the dispute is a blow to the community. The differences are not only preventing completion of work started early in the spring, but also are throwing cold water upon contemplated projects. In fact, the strike may mean abandonment of much building this year. Thus everybody—workers, employers and the public—will pay the penalty.

It is high time for the principals to get down to brass tacks and bury the hatchet.

Appetite Machines

One of the eastern universities is using a machine now to tell how much girl students ought to eat. It is a "respiration gauge."

The student's "basal metabolism," which is a fancy name for the amount of nourishment she needs, is shown by the way she breathes into this contraption after going without food for 12 to 18 hours. The machine shows the amount of oxygen she is consuming, and that in turn shows how much fuel she is burning up and needs to replace.

"If, for example," explains the professor of nutrition, "the cubic centimeter figure is 202, we know the girl's basal metabolism is 1,403 calories a day. This means she should have food representing about 2,200 calories a day to get the proper amount of nourishment." The girls are found to require 2,200 to 2,400 calories a day.

Basal metabolism indeed! The average girl, in college or out, finds her appetite a more satisfactory gauge than any mechanical invention. As for "calories," it simply makes her sick to rate nutritive values in figures and formulas, when what she wants is grub and plenty of it.

Girls have never eaten scientifically, and probably never will. Modern girls would rather study the soda fountain bill of fare than the nutrition table, and take a chance on the calories if they can only relieve that empty feeling.

Holland Makes More Land

The little country of the Netherlands might very well claim as its own the slogan "a bigger and better country," for it is literally enlarging its area in the next few years.

Holland is performing this miracle of adding square miles to its territory by draining a large section of the Zuider Zee and putting the ground under cultivation.

To much of the rest of the world Holland has long seemed a land wrested from the sea and forever guarding against the sea's return. The courageous little boy stopping the hole in the dyke with his finger has seemed typical of Holland. It is forever bringing submerged land into the light of day and putting it to good use. Since 1900 Holland has reclaimed 300,000 acres of such land. The present plans were prepared before the World war. They will add 540,000 acres to the country's present extent and leave only 250,000 acres still under the Zuider Zee.

When that body of water is completely drained and Holland needs still more acres for expansion, will it start work on the North Sea?

Pacific Defense

The Hawaiian Islands are valuable, both as real estate and as a key to the Pacific. They are roughly in the middle of that great ocean. They command routes to Asia, Australia and the Philippines. America is glad that it has the islands, and wants to keep them. They will become steadily more valuable and more popular as American interest shifts farther westward and the possibilities of Pacific trade and intercourse develop.

Uncle Sam, assuredly, doesn't want anybody to take Hawaii away from him, and will go to any length to safeguard it.

Nevertheless all these naval maneuvers around Hawaii, and all the ensuing talk about the spending of huge sums to strengthen Hawaiian fortifications and enlarge the sea and air defense, are a little puzzling. Most Americans have supposed that, as a result of the treaty entered into at Washington two years ago by the powers interested in the Pacific, the peace of that ocean was guaranteed and large expenditures for defense in that region were made unnecessary.

Is there to be an old-fashioned competitive scramble for defense again? It is disheartening to think of that treaty, in which Americans took so much satisfaction, turning into a dead letter.

NEW YORK DAYBYDAY

By O. O. McINTYRE

NEW YORK, May 16. — Those imposing temples of fashion on the avenue known as Maison This and That are models of discretion. Their secrets are many, for the bulk of their patronage comes from the crepe-de-chine creatures who are sometimes known as "wards."

Their books would break up many homes but their ledgers are of the loose-leaf kind and if a subpoena server tries to crash into the temple he may find nothing more incriminating than the black ashes of burned paper.

The general overseer is known as Madam. She has a queenly manner and fits perfectly into the elaborate fittings of the grand salon. She is a skillful flatterer and knows how to put Elderly Guardians quickly at their ease.

Madam has an alert mind. She has come from an errand girl in the sewing room to the high priestess role. Usually you will find that Madam has married several worthless men. She sees so much evidence of sin and deceit that she believes all men are rotters.

That is why she takes such keen delight in tripping them up for heavy purchases. She likes their accounts for she knows that they will pay and she can charge them what she will. Twice a year Madam goes to Paris and she knows the manners and phrases of the French couturier.

The fashionable temples are generally backed by syndicates and Madam in some instances receives a salary of $25,000 a year. She builds up her name and when she wishes to retire may sell the name for a sizeable sum.

Madam has a motherly interest in her models—those trim and lithe ladies who pace up and down from the dais with the slow, undulating stride. She will discharge them for only one thing—that is for being flirtatious. And that is why, they say, a mannikin will rarely smile on duty.

Bud Fisher, the cartoonist, perhaps owns the most expensive suit of clothes in the world. It cost him $21,000. The way of it was this: Bud now and then takes some of his vast earnings and makes an excursion into business. Recently he decided to back a tailor in a rather gaudy little salon on Madison Avenue. It was opened with a flourish. Bud ordered the first suit. He received it in a week. The next week the shop blew up in bankruptcy and all Fisher has retrieved out of the wreckage is that single suit of clothes.

One of the most accomplished composers of jazz strategems in Tin Pan Alley picks out his tunes on a zither. Still another is able to play only the harmonica. Earl Carroll plays the piano with on finger. Dave Stamper learned to play by ear while "slinging beer" at Coney Island. George Gershwin was a salesman. Gene Buck began his career drawing water color pictures for song titles. Ballard MacDonald was a clerk. Irving Berlin sang for pitched nickels in a Chinatown dive. All the fashioners of the dreamy, peachy banalities came from more or less obscurity. Not one from a conservatory of music.

One of Broadway's high flyers decided to play a practical joke on one of those $3 couvert charge cafes. He took a basket of food—ginger ale, hard boiled eggs, sandwiches, pickles and hot dogs. The proprietor gave him his best attention and entered gravely into the spirit of the joke. He presented a bill for wear and tear on silverware, $5; use of table, $25; listening to orchestra, $35; strain on waiter's nerves, $13. The total was $181. The waiter was tendered a dollar bill for payment and to the high flyer's surprise he received $1.12 in change.

HASKIN'S LETTER

BY FREDERIC J. HASKIN

How Uncle Sam Aids Industry.

WASHINGTON, May 16.—The trend of the age is toward perfection, whether it be in the matching of one's suit and tie, the handling of one's fork at a six-course dinner, or the manufacture of a product.

The advances of science have shown those who create commodities or render professional services that the twentieth century will not long tolerate mediocrity; it must have perfection, or as near perfection as possible. In other words, manufacturers must keep their products apace with the research of science if they would survive.

With this in view the department of Commerce, through its bureau of Standards, has increased its activity in research tending to benefit the manufactories and enterprises of the United States.

It has been since the war that this situation forced itself upon manufacturers. They found that more and more they had to solve their problems by scientific methods, or refer them to a suitably equipped laboratory. Of course, many industries are now handling their scientific posers by especially appointed laboratories in charge of trained experts, leaving the Bureau of Standard free to investigate the fundamentals of porduction. Such an arrangement is regarded as desirable, although the bureau stands ready to aid in any way it is needed, the only provision being that the results be made public.

It is claimed that this is a wise provision and a very necessary one and that it is obvious why it is made. The clay products may be taken as an industry example and an individual plant, say, in Little Rock, Arkansas, which wishes to discover the best method of removing impurities from clay. It transmits its problem

One of the most elaborate Junior-Senior banquet in years was held last evening in the gymnasium of the East Liverpool high school. The decorating committee, which included Wallace Sample, chairman, Helen Sturgis, Mellie Kenney, Marjorie Hilbert and Clifford Bough, transformed the hall into a bower of class colors of blue and white. The ceiling was a canopy of crepe ribbons festooned from a medallion, which bore the class portraits, the walls were adorned with streamers, and over the door in blue and white were the letters, "Welcome." The basketball baskets were decorated with the colors of the class of '25 and that of the class of '26. An alcove was formed in one corner of the room by the aid of ferns, palms and baskets of peonies, in which the Ortle orchestra, composed of Ohio State collegians, played the attractive musical program for the dancing. The grand march was led by the Junior class president, George Allison, and Miss Sara Pollock. James Perry was chairman of the social and entertainment committee.

During the evening several contests were featured, trophies being awarded as follows: Prettiest senior, Miss Mary Smith; best looking boy, Wayne Furrer; best student, Jennings Horger; sheik, Fred Lamping; senior class sheikess, Miss Lozella Birch; most popular girl, Miss Dorothy Cooper; most popular boy, Dale Liebschner; best athletic girl, Miss Dorothy Cooper; best athletic boy, Charles McConville; most likely senior to succeed, E. K. Bennett; the junior trophies were as follows: Miss Marjorie Hilbert, most talkative girl; sheik, Robert Bloor; sheikess, Miss Edith Boice, and Miss Helen Sturgis was awarded the trophy for the beauty prize for the whole high school.

Danceland Party Tonight.

The Curran Dancing academy will give a round and square dancing party at Danceland tonight from 8:30 until 12 o'clock. The musical program will be furnished by Haney's Harmony players. A serpentine dance will be featured at Danceland Monday evening.

"Men are Worth As Much as Their Glands"

DR. SERGE VORONOFF, of France, who has devoted years to experiment in glandular treatment, has said: "A man is worth only as much as his glands." He has also stated that the functioning of our organs is no more than the result of the activity of our glands, and when the bodily functioning is disturbed, the cause in most cases should be sought, not in the condition of the organ itself, but in the condition of the gland which controls it.

Glandogen, the new scientific glands, and when the bodily functions convenient tablet form, for men and for women, provides a simple method of taking glandular treatment. Accept no substitutes. Insist on genuine Glandogen, the original gland tonic.

Mathews Cut Rate will supply you.

Jolly Fellows' Club Dance.

The Jolly Fellows' club will feature their last dancing party of the season at the Eagles' ball room, Broadway, tonight. Norman E. Stillwell's Symphony band will have charge of the music from 8:30 until 12 o'clock. Following the performance at the Strand theatre, members of the orchestra playing there will be guests and will take part in the entertaining. Many out-of-town guests will be present.

Monday evening, the Jolly Fellows' club will entertain with a moonlight excursion on the steamer Verne Swain. The boat will leave the Broadway wharf at 8:30 o'clock, returning at 11:30. The public is invited to attend.

Missionary Society Meeting.

The Woman's Foreign Missionary society of the First Methodist Protestant church will meet Monday evening at 7:30 o'clock in the church parlors. The program will be arranged by Mrs. Jacob Herman. Devotionals will be in charge of Mrs. Herman Hall.

Things to Know About Our Service

"Do it Electrically"

Good Light Means Good Eyesight

The National Safety Council sponsors this set of rules for proper lighting:—

1. Light should shine on the object under gaze, not in the observer's eyes.
2. Glare, which is light out of place, should be overcome by the use of diffusing glass shades.
3. Strong contrasts of light and shadow should be avoided. Indirect lighting is preferred for general illumination.
4. Avoid the glare of reflections from polished surfaces.
5. Both too much and too little light strains and fatigues the eyes. Irritation also results from unsteady, flickering or streaked light.

Save your eyesight! You can never replace it. Let us help you on any lighting problem in home, office, factory or store.

EAST LIVERPOOL — AMERICA'S POTTERY CENTER

SATURDAY, MAY 16, 1925.

Settle Carpenters' Strike

With no signs of peace apparent, the strike of 125 carpenters in the East Liverpool district, declared on May 1; is now in its third week, badly crippling building operations.

The workers walked out when their demand for a flat increase of one dollar a day over the present $10 scale was rejected by the contractors, who pointed out that a $11 a day wage scale would mean a corresponding increase in the cost of construction work which is now at a high mark.

On the other hand, employers have offered to renew the old agreement, but the carpenters are equally adamant in their refusal to accept the proposal.

All other branches of the building trades have renewed 1924 wage contracts with their employers. Included in this list are bricklayers, plasterers, hod carriers, painters, plumbers and electricians.

According to reports, with one exception, the old carpenters' scale is on a par with agreements in effect in other Ohio valley cities. In fact, it is claimed, in some cities a daily wage of less than $10 is paid.

Delay in settlement of the dispute is a blow to the community. The differences are not only preventing completion of work started early in the spring, but also are throwing cold water upon contemplated projects. In fact, the strike may mean abandonment of much building this year. Thus everybody—workers, employers and the public—will pay the penalty.

It is high time for the principals to get down to brass tacks and bury the hatchet.

Appetite Machines

One of the eastern universities is using a machine now to tell how much girl students ought to eat. It is a "respiration gauge."

The student's "basal metabolism," which is a fancy name for the amount of nourishment she needs, is shown by the way she breathes into this contraption after going without food for 12 to 18 hours. The machine shows the amount of oxygen she is consuming, and that in turn shows how much fuel she is burning up and needs to replace.

"If, for example," explains the professor of nutrition, "the cubic centimeter figure is 202, we know the girl's basal metabolism is 1,403 calories a day. This means she should have food representing about 2,200 calories a day to get the proper amount of nourishment." The girls are found to require 2,200 to 2,400 calories a day.

Basal metabolism indeed! The average girl, in college or out, finds her appetite a more satisfactory gauge than any mechanical invention. As for "calories," it simply makes her sick to rate nutritive values in figures and formulas, when what she wants is grub and plenty of it.

Girls have never eaten scientifically, and probably never will. Modern girls would rather study the soda fountain bill of fare than the nutrition table, and take a chance on the calories if they can only relieve that empty feeling.

Holland Makes More Land

The little country of the Netherlands might very well claim as its own the slogan "a bigger and better country," for it is literally enlarging its area in the next few years.

Holland is performing this miracle of adding square miles to its territory by draining a large section of the Zuider Zee and putting the ground under cultivation.

To much of the rest of the world Holland has long seemed a land wrested from the sea and forever guarding against the sea's return. The courageous little boy stopping the hole in the dyke with his finger has seemed typical of Holland. It is forever bringing submerged land into the light of day and putting it to good use. Since 1900 Holland has reclaimed 300,000 acres of such land. The present plans were prepared before the World war. They will add 540,000 acres to the country's present extent and leave only 250,000 acres still under the Zuider Zee.

When that body of water is completely drained and Holland needs still more acres for expansion, will it start work on the North Sea?

Pacific Defense

The Hawaiian Islands are valuable, both as real estate and as a key to the Pacific. They are roughly in the middle of that great ocean. They command routes to Asia, Australia and the Philippines. America is glad that it has the islands, and wants to keep them. They will become steadily more valuable and more popular as American interest shifts farther westward and the possibilities of Pacific trade and intercourse develop.

Uncle Sam, assuredly, doesn't want anybody to take Hawaii away from him, and will go to any length to safeguard it.

Nevertheless all these naval maneuvers around Hawaii, and all the ensuing talk about the spending of huge sums to strengthen Hawaiian fortifications and enlarge the sea and air defense, are a little puzzling. Most Americans have supposed that, as a result of the treaty entered into at Washington two years ago by the powers interested in the Pacific, the peace of that ocean was guaranteed and large expenditures for defense in that region were made unnecessary.

Is there to be an old-fashioned competitive scramble for defense again? It is disheartening to think of that treaty, in which Americans took so much satisfaction, turning into a dead letter.

NEW YORK DAYBYDAY

By O. O. McINTYRE

NEW YORK, May 16. — Those imposing temples of fashion on the avenue known as Maison This and That are models of discretion. Their secrets are many, for the bulk of their patronage comes from the crepe-de-chine creatures who are sometimes known as "wards."

Their books would break up many homes but their ledgers are of the loose-leaf kind and if a subpoena server tries to crash into the temple he may find nothing more incriminating than the black ashes of burned paper.

The general overseer is known as Madam. She has a queenly manner and fits perfectly into the elaborate fittings of the grand salon. She is a skillful flatterer and knows how to put Elderly Guardians quickly at their ease.

Madam has an alert mind. She has come from an errand girl in the sewing room to the high priestess role. Usually you will find that Madam has married several worthless men. She sees so much evidence of sin and deceit that she believes all men are rotters.

That is why she takes such keen delight in tripping them up for heavy purchases. She likes their accounts for she knows that they will pay and she can charge them what she will. Twice a year Madam goes to Paris and she knows the manners and phrases of the French couturier.

The fashionable temples are generally backed by syndicates and Madam in some instances receives a salary of $25,000 a year. She builds up her name and when she wishes to retire may sell the name for a sizeable sum.

Madam has a motherly interest in her models—those trim and lithe ladies who pace up and down from the dais with the slow, undulating stride. She will discharge them for only one thing—that is for being flirtatious. And that is why, they say, a mannikin will rarely smile on duty.

Bud Fisher, the cartoonist, perhaps owns the most expensive suit of clothes in the world. It cost him $21,000. The way of it was this: Bud now and then takes some of his vast earnings and makes an excursion into business. Recently he decided to back a tailor in a rather gaudy little salon on Madison Avenue. It was opened with a flourish. Bud ordered the first suit. He received it in a week. The next week the shop blew up in bankruptcy and all Fisher has retrieved out of the wreckage is that single suit of clothes.

One of the most accomplished composers of jazz strategems in Tin Pan Alley picks out his tunes on a zither. Still another is able to play only the harmonica. Earl Carroll plays the piano with on finger. Dave Stamper learned to play by ear while "slinging beer" at Coney Island. George Gershwin was a salesman. Gene Buck began his career drawing water color pictures for song titles. Ballard MacDonald was a clerk. Irving Berlin sang for pitched nickels in a Chinatown dive. All the fashioners of the dreamy, peachy banalities came from more or less obscurity. Not one from a conservatory of music.

One of Broadway's high flyers decided to play a practical joke on one of those $3 couvert charge cafes. He took a basket of food—ginger ale, hard boiled eggs, sandwiches, pickles and hot dogs. The proprietor gave him his best attention and entered gravely into the spirit of the joke. He presented a bill for wear and tear on silverware, $5; use of table, $25; listening to orchestra, $35; strain on waiter's nerves, $13. The total was $181. The waiter was tendered a dollar bill for payment and to the high flyer's surprise he received $1.12 in change.

HASKIN'S LETTER

BY FREDERIC J. HASKIN

How Uncle Sam Aids Industry.

WASHINGTON, May 16.—The trend of the age is toward perfection, whether it be in the matching of one's suit and tie, the handling of one's fork at a six-course dinner, or the manufacture of a product.

The advances of science have shown those who create commodities or render professional services that the twentieth century will not long tolerate mediocrity; it must have perfection, or as near perfection as possible. In other words, manufacturers must keep their products apace with the research of science if they would survive.

With this in view the department of Commerce, through its bureau of Standards, has increased its activity in research tending to benefit the manufactories and enterprises of the United States.

It has been since the war that this situation forced itself upon manufacturers. They found that more and more they had to solve their problems by scientific methods, or refer them to a suitably equipped laboratory. Of course, many industries are now handling their scientific posers by especially appointed laboratories in charge of trained experts, leaving the Bureau of Standard free to investigate the fundamentals of porduction. Such an arrangement is regarded as desirable, although the bureau stands ready to aid in any way it is needed, the only provision being that the results be made public.

It is claimed that this is a wise provision and a very necessary one and that it is obvious why it is made. The clay products may be taken as an industry example and an individual plant, say, in Little Rock, Arkansas, which wishes to discover the best method of removing impurities from clay. It transmits its problem

One of the most elaborate Junior-Senior banquet in years was held last evening in the gymnasium of the East Liverpool high school. The decorating committee, which included Wallace Sample, chairman, Helen Sturgis, Mellie Kenney, Marjorie Hilbert and Clifford Bough, transformed the hall into a bower of class colors of blue and white. The ceiling was a canopy of crepe ribbons festooned from a medallion, which bore the class portraits, the walls were adorned with streamers, and over the door in blue and white were the letters, "Welcome." The basketball baskets were decorated with the colors of the class of '25 and that of the class of '26. An alcove was formed in one corner of the room by the aid of ferns, palms and baskets of peonies, in which the Ortle orchestra, composed of Ohio State collegians, played the attractive musical program for the dancing. The grand march was led by the Junior class president, George Allison, and Miss Sara Pollock. James Perry was chairman of the social and entertainment committee.

During the evening several contests were featured, trophies being awarded as follows: Prettiest senior, Miss Mary Smith; best looking boy, Wayne Furrer; best student, Jennings Horger; sheik, Fred Lamping; senior class sheikess, Miss Lozella Birch; most popular girl, Miss Dorothy Cooper; most popular boy, Dale Liebschner; best athletic girl, Miss Dorothy Cooper; best athletic boy, Charles McConville; most likely senior to succeed, E. K. Bennett; the junior trophies were as follows: Miss Marjorie Hilbert, most talkative girl; sheik, Robert Bloor; sheikess, Miss Edith Boice, and Miss Helen Sturgis was awarded the trophy for the beauty prize for the whole high school.

"Men are Worth As Much as Their Glands"

DR. SERGE VORONOFF, of France, who has devoted years to experiment in glandular treatment, has said: "A man is worth only as much as his glands." He has also stated that the functioning of our organs is no more than the result of the activity of our glands, and when the bodily functioning is disturbed, the cause in most cases should be sought, not in the condition of the organ itself, but in the condition of the gland which controls it.

Glandogen, the new scientific glands, and when the bodily functconvenient tablet form, for men and for women, provides a simple method of taking glandular treatment. Accept no substitutes. Insist on genuine Glandogen, the original gland tonic.

Things to Know About Our Service

"Do it Electrically"

Good Light Means Good Eyesight

The National Safety Council sponsors this set of rules for proper lighting:—

1. Light should shine on the object under gaze, not in the observer's eyes.
2. Glare, which is light out of place, should be overcome by the use of diffusing glass shades.
3. Strong contrasts of light and shadow should be avoided. Indirect lighting is preferred for general illumination.
4. Avoid the glare of reflections from polished surfaces.
5. Both too much and too little light strains and fatigues the eyes. Irritation also results from unsteady, flickering or streaked light.

Save your eyesight! You can never replace it. Let us help you on any lighting problem in home, office, factory or store.

Making a 100% Wife Out of $100,000 Worth of Dimples

When Wealthy Mr. Nirdlinger Saw the Dimpled "Miss St. Louis" He Exclaimed: "What a Stage Star She'd Make!" Later On He Added: "And What a Wife!"

By WINIFRED VAN DUZER.

WHEN Miss Charlotte Nash was leaving St. Louis to represent her home town in the bathing beauty contest at Atlantic City last year her friends all advised her:

"Remember that your face is your fortune! Although you have been judged the prettiest girl in St. Louis, you're only a kid with no special education, social training, position or wealth. But your dimples alone are worth stacks of money!"

So Charlotte went to the pulchritude pageant wondering if her face would prove the same sort of fortune to her that a tiny foot once proved to another Cinderella.

And it did!

For it happened that one of the chairmen of the inter-city beauty contest was Fred G. Nixon-Nirdlinger, wealthy theatrical magnate of Philadelphia.

And although Mr. Nirdlinger had met many famous beauties during forty years of theatrical experience, and although the pick of feminine good looks from all over the United States surrounded him, he couldn't take his eyes from Miss St. Louis and her dimples.

"What a wonderful musical comedy star she'd make!" he told his friends. "All she needs is a little training. Have you noticed her dimples?"

They had noticed. And they remembered how Nirdlinger had helped many women ascend from lowly places in the chorus to stardom by offering a suggestion here, a selection there; directing the change of accent, adoption of a more becoming type of dress, a different manner of arranging their hair.

So nobody who had felt the charm of Charlotte's beauty of face and figure, the sparkle of her deep eyes, the glinting lights in her hair and her peach blossom complexion was surprised when word went out that Nirdlinger had become her sponsor and manager, with the avowed intention of helping her win all the prizes in the Atlantic City contest.

With his assistants he taught her much that would aid in presenting her points to the greatest advantage. Special bathing suits were ordered to accentuate the lines of her figure. A publicity agent was hired to write glowing descriptions of her for the newspapers.

And to make sure that there might be no slip, the millionaire dropped into an insurance office one day and insured her dimples for $100,000!

The pageant came. Midst the plaudits of the judges and trained observers the chairman of the contest saw his protege walk away with first honors in the Boardwalk parade, the most spectacular event of the entire tournament. Later she won fourth prize in the contest of international beauties.

"The perfect girl!" said everybody then. "Nirdlinger was right—what a star she will make!"

"Yes," the Philadelphian commented absently. "And what a wife she would make!"

"What?" they gasped. "What do you mean?"

"Oh, nothing," he replied. "You've said she is the 'perfect girl' and she is—physically. Nevertheless, I find defects in her. My lifelong ambition is to sponsor the most attractive woman in all history depends on getting rid of them. So now I am going to make the perfect girl a 'perfect lady!'"

Then everybody began to wonder if there was anything significant in Nirdlinger's inadvertent remark, "what a wife she would make!" It was whispered that a "perfect" marriage was one of his fondest dreams. Was it possible that he was thinking of making a hundred per cent wife out of a hundred thousand dollars' worth of dimples?

Twice in years gone by Nirdlinger had attempted to realize the "perfect" marriage. Each time, however, he was bitterly disappointed.

"But," everybody explained, "his brides were older than Miss St. Louis and more set in their ways and harder to bring round to any realization of what a hundred per cent wife should be.

"This little prize-winner isn't quite eighteen. She's what you might call raw material. She'd be a made-to-order bride!"

It was more than twenty years ago that Nirdlinger met the first woman whom he thought he could make over into a hundred per cent wife.

She was Lulu Granger and she starred in his first production, playing opposite Raymond Hitchcock in "Miss Bob White." Nirdlinger and Miss Granger were so embarrassed when a couple bearing almost identical names were married near Philadelphia, and they were put to the necessity of denying that they were the two, that their association was broken up. But he never gave up hope. Perhaps he once dreamed of building his first wife the former Teresa Burke, into his ideal. But they were divorced and he met Laura McKenna.

He coached her for awhile and everybody said that he promised to make her the most attractive woman in the world. When he was well on the way to success they were married, and it was a long time before it became known that not only was Laura proving to be far from the perfect woman, but their marriage had developed many serious defects. They were divorced.

"But if he's investing in the Nash dimples with a view to matrimony he's going about it in a very original manner," said his friends. "Have you heard that he's got her into the National Park Seminary at Forest Glen, Maryland?"

It was true. While the names of hundreds remained on the waiting list of the fashionable and highly exclusive school, Nirdlinger managed through influential connections to place his protege.

Throughout the year that she was a student she received an allowance double that of her classmates. Her clothes were extravagant. She mingled with the daughters of America's leading families. In her spare hours a governess was specially employed to instruct her in the fine points of social deportment.

Her voice was toned down and modulated by vocal training. Grace of lines and movement were insured by dancing lessons. She learned to ride horseback.

At Christmas Nirdlinger visited her. He told his friends that her poise fascinated him and that she showed improvement beyond his hopes.

"He's investing too much money in a stage possibility," they said.

In February Charlotte again received a visit from her benefactor, and this time he told her that she was as nearly perfect as he cared his bride to be. So without a word to the friends who had been watching his experiment for nearly a year, the two slipped over to Hagerstown, Md., and were married.

But something happened while they were on the high seas, sailing to Paris for their wedding trip—something which may not menace Nirdlinger's "perfect" marriage in the least, but which, in fact, may make its perfection enough of a gamble to flavor it attractively.

The something was just a bit of a quarrel. What it was about or how it began, no one knows. Out in St. Louis Daddy J. B. Nash declared that he was completely baffled, while over in Paris Mamma Nash, who accompanied her daughter on her wedding trip, helped her pack and sail for home, begging all the while to be told what it meant.

But the two no sooner had set foot in New York than little Mrs. Nirdlinger was showered with cables imploring her to return to Paris and her bridegroom.

And she did—on the next boat. And ever after, or until this moment, at least, they have lived happily.

'He Who Gets Slapped' A Film Milestone

"He Who Gets Slapped" is a motion picture production that can truthfully be called great. It opens at the American Monday and is doing capacity business during this engagement for the picture is one of the finest contributions of the year.

Victor Seastrom, Lon Chaney and Leonid Andreyev share honors for this remarkable photoplay. Andreyev's story is internationally famous. Seastrom conclusively demonstrated by his masterful handling of the story that he is one of the foremost directors of the day. Chaney gives what is probably his best performance. As the clown in 'He Who Gets Slapped' Chaney is not a grotesque figure, but a human and sympathetic character who will tug at the heartstrings of everyone.

The story centers about a noted scientist whose life work and wife are taken by a man who was supposed to be his friend. Despondent, the scientist joins a circus as a clown. This gives an opportunity for many amusing touches and also for a tender love story. While the story is essentially a tragic one, the background of the European circus takes away any depression that might result.

Norma Shearer is the girl in the story and she gives a very good performance. Miss Shearer is one of the most beautiful girls in pictures and photographs especially well in "He Who Gets Slapped."

John Gilbert, as the young circus rider, also gives an excellent characterization. The other members of the cast are equally good in their parts.

Finally Relieved by Taking Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, Says Mrs. Anderson

Rangeley, Maine. — "Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound helped me greatly for bearing-down pains in the sides and back, headaches and tired feelings. I suffered for two years and it seemed as though I could not get my work done from one day to the next. After reading letters from others who had taken the Vegetable Compound I decided to try it and now I can do all kinds of work, sewing, washing, ironing and sweeping. I live on a farm and have five in the family so am busy most of the time. I recommend the Vegetable Compound to my friends and hope my letter will help some one to take your medicine."— Mrs. WALTER E. ANDERSON, Box 270, Rangeley, Maine.

Over 200,000 women have so far replied to our question, "Have you received benefit from taking Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound?"

98 out of every 100 of the replies say, "yes," and because the Vegetable Compound has been helping other women it should help you. For sale by druggists everywhere.

Mr. Harry Goble Tells How Cuticura Healed Eruptions

"My back began to itch and burn and a rash of small pimples broke out across my shoulders. The pimples were hard and red and scaled over, and would break and scale over again. They itched and burned causing me to scratch until my back was covered with sore eruptions. The eruptions were so sore that when I lay down I could not get a bit of sleep.

"I read an advertisement for Cuticura Soap and Ointment and purchased some. In a few days I got relief, and after using three cakes of Soap and one and a half boxes of Ointment I was healed." (Signed) Harry Goble, Lexington, Nebr., July 5, 1924.

These fragrant emollients are all you need for all toilet purposes. Soap to cleanse and purify, Ointment to soothe and heal, Talcum to powder and sweeten.

Two County Men Will be Paroled From Reformatory

Two Columbiana county men—John Densmore and Clarence Cope—will be paroled from the Mansfield reformatory on June 15.

Cope was sentenced to the reformatory for a term of from one to 15 years, on April 22, 1924, after he had been convicted of burglary at Salem. He will have served almost 14 months in the institution when his pardon becomes effective.

No records are available at the office of Clerk of Courts Burns regarding Densmore's case, although he is listed as having been committed by the Columbiana county courts.

millions now living will never die

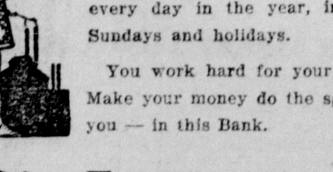

Surely the time when God's will is done on earth as in heaven, is not a period of uneventful bliss and passive inertness, as some people believe.

The Kingdom of God, which was foretold by the prophets and for which Jesus taught His disciples to pray, is a new world on earth, bettered by a more nearly perfect man.

And a perfect man possesses ideals and capabilities to be employed in the creation of better conveniences and the exploration of the phenomena of natural forces.

To know of God's plan for everlasting life of mankind on earth is to lift those depressing feelings that weigh so heavily upon them now.

City Industrial League Leaders Take First Defeat of Season

Laughlin Tossers Hand Riley's Club Inaugural Setback

Reese Pitches Bricelin Nine to 12 to 4 Conquest, Allowing Five Hits; Hoy and Bennett are Hit Hard by Newell Club.

BEFORE a large crowd, Laughlin defeated Chester in a City Industrial league contest at Newell Friday evening, 12 to 4.

Hoy, passing two men and allowing a double, was relieved in the first inning by Duck, who was hit hard and timely, and later gave way to P. Bennett.

Reese went along easily, allowing but five hits.

McConnell, playing his first game for Laughlin, and Babb and Myers, of the same team, had perfect days at the bat.

SHOT-PUT MARK IS RULED OUT

Hum, of Lisbon, who in 1912, put the 12-pound shot a distance of 43 feet 11 inches, still holds the official Columbiana County Track and Field association record for that particular event.

The toss of 44 feet and 9 inches, made by Banks, of Wellsville, a week ago today at Lisbon, has been ruled off the books by D. M. Williams, of Girard high, the official meet referee, according to announcement by Superintendent W. H. Geiger, of Lisbon, head of the county association.

According to Superintendent Geiger, Referee Williams declared the shot used during this event last Saturday was three-fourths of a pound light and therefore not up to specifications.

As a result, there is no new record, although points made by the athletes who placed in the event will stand, inasmuch as practically all of the contestants used the questionable iron ball.

According to announcement by Superintendent Geiger, an investigation of the affair will be instituted by the County Schoolmasters' club at its next meeting.

The Phillies advanced to the dizzy heights of third place by handing the Cubs an 8 to 4 defeat.

SCHOLASTICS DOWN NEWELL

Locals Bunch Hits in Fourth Frame for Four Runs.

The East Liverpool Scholastics hung up another victory yesterday afternoon on Patterson field when they trimmed the Newell high school nine, 6 to 3.

Mackall, Scholastic twirler, had an edge on Watson, of the visitors, during the battle. Mackall pitched shut-out ball for the first six innings. The visitors, however, got to his offerings in the seventh and last inning. Watson was touched up hard in the fifth frame. However, he registered 10 strikeouts.

The locals scored in the first frame when Pusey clouted the ball for three sacks and reached home on a passed ball. They scored again in the second on McKee's home run drive. In the fifth four more runners crossed the plate. Both McConville and English hit safely and executed a double steal as Schneidmiller fanned. Both rambled home on McKee's double to right and McKee made the circuit on Rariden's erratic throw. Kinsey lined over short and went to second on a wild pitch. Maley's infield hit advanced him to third and a passed ball sent him around.

Newell's runs were recorded in the final frame. Watson tripled, Dittimer hit to Kinsey at third and Kinsey played for Watson, going to the plate. The play was bobbled and Watson counted, Dittimer going to second. Rariden singled and Dittimer tallied on English's wild peg to first. Mills singled, scoring Rariden.

PHILADELPHIA, May 16.—Philadelphia got the edge on the series with the Chicago by finishing on the losing end of an 8 to 4 count. Blake and Jacobs were both found for hits at opportune times.

Relief Hurler Knight stopped the Cubs when they found Betts weakening. Jimmy Wilson had a home run and a perfect day at bat. Grimm also hit each time up.

SCHOOL TROPHY IS RECOVERED

Cup, Stolen Last Saturday, Found Beneath Dance Hall.

The Columbiana County Track and Field association trophy cup, stolen from the office at the fairground last Saturday afternoon while the twenty-second annual meet was under way, has been recovered. It is now in the possession of Salem high school, winner of the meet.

Fairground workmen found the cup concealed beneath a large can under the dance pavilion at the frairground. It had not been marred.

When the cup was taken from the office Saturday, the wooden base was left behind and this was taken to Salem at the time. Yesterday the cup was turned over to O. M. Rohrabaugh, of Salem high school, by Superintendent W. H. Geiger, of Lisbon, president of the association.

However, the mystery which surrounds the transfer of the cup from the office to its hiding place, remains unsolved.

Louisville Is Mecca For Turfdom's Fans

By Davis J. Walsh.

LOUISVILLE, May 16.—As Mecca is the objective of the focal point of the great American pilgrimage to the shrine of the thoroughbred Shank, its disciples prostrated on prayer rugs that bore a singular resemblance to a five dollar mutuel ticket on a possible winner of the $50,000 Kentucky derby, Louisville today was in the midst of its annual frenzy, with 75,000 visitors gorging its highways and the music of approaching hoofbeats tingling in its civiv ear.

There is only one Kentucky derby and it will be held late this afternoon at Churchill Downs.

The sky was cloudy early in the day, and if it makes good its threat, the entire aspect of the fifty first running of the turf's three year old classic will be changed. The official weather forecast was for showers.

Quatrain, of the Frederick Johnson string, opened a staunch favorite on the supposition that the track would be as dry as a mouthful of Alkali dust. But, if they liked him on a dry track, their regard would be almost reverential in the mud. They would back him right off the horizon.

Hope ran high, however, that the early threat of rain would not become a fulfillment. The disciples were ready to worship at the shrine, but they had no fancy for doing it in the mud. This not only would be unpleasant for man and beast, but would ruin what competition such as Captain Hal and other fancied starters might care to offer.

The Captain cannot run in the mud and lost caste, any how, the belief having become general that he left his on the track some days ago when he went the full Derby distance of a mile and a quarter in 2:05 1-5.

Much doubt existed today as to whether he ever was a distance horse at any time.

Similarly a suspicion seemed to have gained ground that Quatrain lacked something of the class demanded of a Derby winner. The experts contended that he never had beaten a real running horse. But the dear public was with him almost to a man, nevertheless.

Backbone and Chantey were better horses, it was said. They ran disappointing races in the Preakness, but the boys claim this was all wrong and should be stopped. No doubt about it, the Whitney pair, coupled with Reminder and The Bat, will get strong play.

One factor, however, seemed to have been overlooked. The Derby field probably will number as many as 20 after the trainers get the scratches out of their systems, and Chantey is right in the middle. His position couldn't be worse, and it is a matter of Derby record that a horse off badly seldom gets up in the money. Captain Hal drew the position next to Chantey, yet has the advantage of being a rapid starter.

But the Cardinal, one place removed, may find himself in the same pocket with Chantey.

Backbone and Almadel drew excellent positions on the outside, and so did Quatrain. The latter may be a reluctant post horse, but he faces the probability of running his race without interference.

It was on account of his favorable position that Flying Ebony came to be fancied, although the fact that Earl Sande was to ride him, no doubt, influenced this sentiment in part. The Cochrane netry, always fast from the mark, was placed between a pair of slow ones in Chief Uncas and Elector, and, barring the unforeseen, seemed due to get away running. Singlefoot, one of the dark horses, also was favorably situated.

Macks Trim Tigers.

DETROIT, May 16.—Philadelphia knocked Leonard out of the box in the sixth inning, scoring six runs and taking the lead from the Tigers to win, 8 to 7. Groves, costly Philadelphia pitcher, hurled the last four innings and held the Tigers without a hit.

Coney Island Wants a New Name—

That will be appropriate for a new resort hotel of Spanish architecture. Does any one recall the Spanish equivalent of "extortionist?"

Some Used Car dealers need the same Spanish name. We buy our Used Cars right, we fix them up right, and then we price them right. No one could ever say that we are unreasonable in the price of our good Used Cars—and every user will say that they are well worth the money.

Here's a Good Used Car We Offer You Today

to the Bureau of Standards whish makes experiments and reports its findings to the company, also making the data public. The company has benefitted as has the industry in general and the United States is that far ahead of the rest of the world. The bureau being a government institution can not but announce its findings to the people of the United States It plays no favorites.

The electric power plant of Lima, Peru, was so badly damaged by the recent flood that operations in all industries were curtailed to a few hours daily, sugar and cotton planters being the heaviest losers and many small planters financially ruined.

A WORD FOR BEGINNERS.

The best way to solve a cross-word puzzle is to run quickly over the list of horizontal and vertical synonyms and compare them to the spaces in the puzzle extending crosswise or downward from the number of the synonym. Some word which will just fit in the number of space available will quickly occur to you in some instances, giving you a foundation from which to solve the more difficult words. The words must interlock perfectly.

MINE WORKERS SCORE VICTORIES

Federal Jurist Hands Down Decision in Injunction Case.

WHEELING, W. Va., May 16.—United Mine Workers fighting injunction proceedings in federal court here today, brought by the West Virginia-Pittsburgh Coal company, who allege contempt against a score of officials and members of the organization, won their second victory today. Judge W. E. Baker handed down an opinion holding that he found no error, as contended by counsel for the operators, in his ruling of Friday, May 8, in which he held that he was bound by the mandate of the superior court, the court of appeals at Richmond, Va., and would again so hold that the permanent injunction granted the West Virginia - Pittsburgh Coal company must be modified as the mandate of the Richmond court directed to permit of "peaceful persuasion," and similar activities upon the part of the miners.

Judge Baker ruled that he found no error in his former decision May 8, in which he held that he was bound by the mandate of the court of appeals sitting at Richmond. He held that the permanent injunction granted years ago against the unionization activities of the United Mine Workers must be modified to permit "peaceful persuasion," and other similar activities on the part of the miners.

The decision of the court was construed as extremely favorable to the striking miners. It was admitted by their counsel during argument that had Judge Baker ruled otherwise it would have ended the strike in the coal fields, production has been greatly curtailed as a result of the strike called a month ago.

BANK RECEIVER IS APPOINTED

With the announcement of the appointment of Benjamin Rosenbloom, of Pittsburgh as receiver depositors of the Burgettstown National bank at Burgettstown, became aware that the affairs of the bank were in such shape that it probably will never open it's doors for business again. Receiver Rosenbloom will take charge of the bank next Monday and after the exact status of the affairs of the bank has been determined, will commence liquidation.

The bank is one of three controlled by John A. Ball, of Carnegie, which closed their doors recently, the other two being located at Carnegie. He was president of the Burgettstown bank until recently.

MILLMAN MEETS WITH ACCIDENT

William Lindsay, 37 years old, Litton street, employed as a shearman in the American Sheet and Tin Plate company plant here, had four fingers of his right hand cut off in the machine he was operating while at work early this morning. Drs. J. L. Pyle nad G. E. Lewis rendered medical attention after he had been given first aid treatment in the mill hospital.

FEDERAL JUDGES HEAR RATE CASE

Three federal judges sat yesterday at Charleston as a statutory court to determine questions arising on the plea of the United Fuel Gas Company to have a recent ruling of the West Virginia Public Service Commission set aside as violative of the United States Constitution, in that it is claimed to be confiscatory. The judge of the southern district of West Virginia last week refused to give a decision in the matter and announced that he would sit with two other jurists. The judges on the bench are Rose, of Baltimore, McDowell, of Lynchburg, and McClintic, of Charleston. The gas company seeks to enjoin the commission from interfering with its attempt to increase rates on natural gas in about fifty communities in the southern part of the state. Three judges are required to act on proceedings to enjoin a state agency such as the public service commission.

SECOND CAPITOL UNIT IS FAVORED

Construction of the second unit of the new state capitol was classed yesterday by the select legislative revenue committee as one of the most urgent building needs of the state government.

Three other items recommended by the administration were tentatively classed as "urgent," carrying appropriations aggregating $1,300,000 for the next two fiscal years. The road maintenance program was not definitely placed in this classification.

The recommendation for an additional building for the hospital for negro insane at Maggie costing $100,000 was approved and placed in class, one together with two hospital buildings at the state tuberculosis sanitarium costing $125,000 and a shop building at the deaf and blind school costing $50,000.

The needs at West Virginia Collegiate Institute were placed in class three and the additional building at the New River State school was placed in the second classification.

The committee tentatively approved the proposed appropriation of $500,000 for each of the next two fiscal years for the state capitol, in addition to the proceeds from the sale of state property here.
